By S. R. PADDOCK

A Grand Old Man has passed on. The late William Busse was our personal friend for over half a century. He was not only a friend of the residents of his home community and the northwest area, but also of the entire Cook county.

Yes, he was a politician, but he had a political code entirely different than that followed by the average run of political chieftains whose first thought is political expediency.

Many a so-called statesman has fallen during the years from high places into the discard, while the record of William Busse has stood through the years as a monument to good government. No greater proof is needed than the fact that in his entire 50 years of service no metropolitan newspaper ever questioned his honesty or the kind of public service he gave. The Busse star in the political heavens has always shown bright.

It was our privilege at times to discuss with him his unwillingness to participate in some of the skullduggery that was being planned against the welfare of the taxpayers of Cook county. He did not pose as a reformer. He knew what was happening, but he used that knowledge to circumvent or minimize the effect of raids upon public welfare.

We will never forget an incident of 25 years ago when he refused to give his support to a political deal that later "smelled to high heaven." His exact words to us were, "I would rather end my public service right now than to be a party to their plan."

He was threatened with political extinction and he stood almost alone. It was not long before "his tempters" were discredited by the press and voters and today their public life is only a dim memory.

In his home town, it was Busse who was at the helm of state when Mt. Prospect was shedding its swaddling clothes. He spearheaded municipal and commercial life in his home community and when others were ready to shoulder local jobs that needed doing, he voluntarily stepped aside. He went on to bigger jobs that needed doing and he did them well.

This week he passed on to his reward. The story of his life is now history, but it could be a textbook for honesty in government to be studied by others who seek political acclaim, the award of which can be the love and high regard of one's fellow citizens.

By his passing we have lost a personal friend and Cook county a faithful public servant.

United States is called the melting pot of the world. Arlington Heights has a kettle bubbling with civic projects just waiting for somebody to ladle into soup dishes for public consumption.

We wish we had the answer. We are no smarter than any other average citizen. This newspaper can only keep stirring the ingredients in the pot, keeping the fire going in hopes the community will get hungry for a taste of the good beef stew in the community "kettle."

Arlington and probably its neighbors would benefit if each had a local "Hoover Commission." Perhaps the voters would pay as little attention to recommendations as congress does to the national body. Recommendation of local needs by a civic group would provide a lot of newspaper headlines.

We often hear people talk about the need for an "over-all" plan for the village, the schools, the park districts, etc. We think the first step is to study a triple "over-all" plan that will include the goals of all tax bodies.

As an example, this week the Palatine village board went on record against a bond issue for an addition to the village hall, because it thought a library building should have precedence. That same body informally expressed its willingness to pledge a part of its half cent sales tax to the Northwest Community hospital if other local communities would make the same pledge.

Is there a need for a Northwest Community hospital? Two weeks ago an Arlington Heights woman became very ill at 6 p. m. Two hospitals said they had no room. The woman died in the emergency room of the third hospital at 9 p. m.

The high school board has a bond issue election coming up this fall. A second swimming pool may not become a reality until 1957.

Vital problems before Arlington village board are off street parking, further street widening, a revamping of zoning. Some of these are partially under control, but few of them can be considered as part of 1956 program.

It is recommended that the Arlington Heights police department and park district get together on the employment of a special police office to be on duty at Recreation Park during the time its facilities are being used by youngsters.

We feel the number of bikes stolen and damaged at the park each week, the reports turned in by young girls about men indecently exposing themselves in the vicinity of the park, and reports of boys playing poker and smoking cigarettes under the main grandstand, warrant such an officer. A uniformed police officer would certainly discourage such activities and keep the park a safe playground for our youngsters.

Demolition of the front end of Arlington Heights high school got under way this week. Above shows the southeast section of the building being torn down to make room for one of two new wings being added to the front of the school. —Staff Photo

School Budgets Exceed Two Million Dollars

Elementary Schools Need $896,229 to Meet Expenses

At a meeting July 12 the board of education of district 25, Arlington Hegihts, tentatively adopted its annual budget and appropriation ordinance. The date for the public hearing on the budget was set for 7:30 p.m. August 16, in the office of the superintendent of schools at the Junior high school. Any interested citizen is invited to attend this hearing.

The appropriations for the educational fund, which cover all expenditures except maintenance and insurance on buildings and grounds and bonds and interest, total $670,550. Of this, 82 per cent is appropriated for salaries of certificated employees (administrators and teachers), custodians, and clerical personnel. Next year's plans provide for 142 employees, including 9 administrators, 99 teachers, 12 custodians, 12 full-time or part-time secretaries, and 10 cafeteria personnel.

THE MAJOR PART of the board's estimate of $673,174.21 of receipts in the educational fund are made up of a balance of $43,967.17, $196,000 from state aid, and $388,243.90 from local taxes. The state aid would have been substantially reduced had the legislature not passed the additional ½ cent of sales tax, because of the sizable increase in school enrollments during the next 2 years.

Appropriations for the districts' contributions to the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (for non-certificated employees) total $7,419.58. For this fund, the estimated receipts are $10,104.80.

The estimate of receipts for the building fund is $53,355.93, with a total appropriation of $52,755. This fund, despite its title, does not include funds for new construction. Major expenditures from it are salaries of maintenance men, summer janitors' salaries, repairs and replacement for buildings and grounds, new fixed equipment in buildings and on grounds, and insurance on buildings.

FOR BONDS and interest, receipts of $229,965.04 are estimated, with bond and interest to be made totaling $165,505.

In all 4 bonds, total receipts are estimated at $966,599.98 with total appropriations of $896,229.58.

"Months of work and study by the superintendent of schools and his staff have gone into the preparation of this financial blueprint for the coming year," stated V. L. Bedingfield, president of the board of education. "This represents one of the major financial endeavors in the community and as such it should interest all citizens and taxpayers."

High School to Appropriate $1,288,205 for Operation

The tentative budget for Arlington Heights high school, totaling $1,288,205, which includes $163,990.40 for debt service, is now on file at the high school office and open for inspection by the public.

A public hearing on the budget, which is for the operation of the high school for the year 1955-56 will be held August 8, at 8 p.m., in the high school cafeteria.

The educational fund total is $918,705, with the estimated receipts for that fund set at $979,843.02. Salaries for 88 faculty members, 1 school nurse, 9 secretaries, 10 cafeteria workers and 12 custodians, are provided for in this budget.

APPROPRIATION for the building fund, which does not include funds for new construction, totaled $205,510. Estimated receipts are set at $228,575.48.

Tax money in the amount of $164,000 will be forthcoming to pay off bonds and interest due this year, totaling $163,990.40. This money comes out of a special fund set up for this purpose.

Contractors are busy tearing out the front of the high school in preparation for adding 2 new wings, which will contain 32 additional classrooms, plus music rooms and a multi-purpose room.

The original cornerstone, laid October 22, 1922, was removed last week and its contents examined. Moisture had seeped into the container and did considerable damage, but copy of the Cook County Herald dated October 22, 1922, was still intact, along with a specimen ballot and a notice of election. Other papers in the box had disintegrated.

The original cornerstone has been reset in the wall of the new wing to preserve it for posterity.

Revoke License Of Consumers Cement Plant

Consumers company cement batching plant, 301 W. Northwest hwy., will be notified this week that its business license will be revoked as of August 1. The notification was authorized by the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night, by a vote of 4-2, with Trustees Robert Bishop and Richard Bronwell casting negetive votes.

The notice states the operation of the plant has become a nuisance, pointing out at least 4 counts where the company has failed to comply with village ordinances.

ACTION WAS taken as a result of demands of property owners to be relieved of cement dust, traffic hazard and unnecessary uoise, all created by the plant's operation.

Both Bishop and Bronwell felt there should be stricter enforcement of village laws by the police department and much of the nuisance complaints could be probably be eliminated. They fear litigation brought on by the revocation of the license will result in a costly battle to taxpayers and there would be no relief to complaints during the interim.

Trustee Frederick Weber pointed out that even though the company obtained an injunction against the village and were able to operate its business until the court ruled on the matter, the village still had the right to arrest and fine them for continued violations.

One of the property owners informed the board if Consumers Co. filed an injunction against the village, that property owners would then file a suit against Consumers for damages suffered by them due to the plant's operation.

AN ORDINANCE providing for an additional beer license to be issued in Arlington Heights was passed Tuesday night, with President Albert W. Goedke casting the deciding vote. Trustees John Hoover, Bronwell and Weber cast negetive votes. The license will be issued to the new Beverley Lanes bowling alley.

Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal was authorized to prepare a new ordinance making provisions to protect the village during the installation of public improvements by subdividers. The new ordinance will require developers to put up a completion bond in the penal sum of 1½ times the engineer's estimate for the improvements, including inspection fees, together with a 15 per cent cash bond to cover all estimated improvements to be established.

Trustees Bronwell and Bishop did not favor this change. Bishop felt the village should be protected one step further, by requiring a cash bond with the issuance of each building permit, to be sure the village was adequately protected in event unforseen complication came about as a result of the improvement.

NOBLE J. PUFFER, Cook County Superintendent of Schools, will begin his fifth term as head of the Cook county school system when inauguration ceremonies are held in his offices August 1.

Name Architect To Prepare High School Plans

With construction on the new addition to Arlington Heights high school under way, the board of education turned Monday evening to the second phase of the building program — plans for the proposed new building on Foundry rd.

The board, with all members in attendance, interviewed representatives of 9 professional architectural and engineering firms from Chicago and the surrounding area; and by unanimous vote, commissioned the firm of Nicol and Nicol, 23 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, to proceed with preliminary plans and cost estimates.

THE APPOINTMENT of Nicol and Nicol was on a contingent basis, subject to a referendum authorizing the new building on Foundry rd. This referendum is expected to be held later this year. Nicol and Nicol are the designers and supervisors of the construction now under way on Euclid st.

The addition to the present school now being built was recommended by the citizens lay advisory committee to meet the anticipated need of the district through the school year 1956-57. Upon completion by September, 1956, it will eliminate double sessions already scheduled for this fall and enable a return to a full school day. It will be outgrown, however, in the one year.

The second step recommended by the citizens lay advisory committee to meet the increased enrollment already existant in the grade schools within the district, is the construction of a second high school building on the Foundry road site ready for occupancy by the fall of 1957.

Bake Sale Saturday To Aid Hospital

Proceeds from a bake sale to be held Saturday by the women of the Arlington Greens Community Ass'n, Arlington Heights, will help finance the proposed Northwest Community Hospital Center.

The sale will be held at J. Svoboda Sons' Men's store, 12 S. Dunton, beginning at 9:30 a.m., and continuing until all the home baked goodies are sold.

Mrs. Paul E. George, chairman, said the women of the subdivision are baking pies, cakes, cookies, bread rolls and coffee cakes for the sale. "It's an ideal way to stock up on tempting foods for the weekend and at the same time aid a worthy cause," said Mrs. George.

Other committee members working on the sale are Mesdames William Miller, Kenneth Jennings and John W. Flodin, and Gordon Baer and Dr. David Bartlett.

Box Social

The Junior Womans club of Arlington Heights is also planning a benefit for the proposed hospital. It will hold a box social July 31, at 5 p.m., at the K. D. Hartman home on Seegers rd. Everyone interested in helping to obtain funds for the hospital is urged to set aside the date and plan to attend.

Those attending should pack a favorite Sunday supper for 2, with a main course of perhaps fried chicken or tasty sandwiches, and a few trimmings, plus dessert, and box attractively. No beverage need be included as it will be sold at the event. Keep the menu a secret when turning the box in to the auctioneer, who will begin auctioning the box lunches promptly at 5 p.m. All money raised will be turned over to the finance committee of the proposed hospital, which will serve residents of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, Schaumburg and Barrington townships.

No matter where one lives in the area he will find it easy to get to the Hartman home. Just take State rd. south to Rt. 58, or take Rt. 58 to State rd., and signs will lead guests from that point to the Hartman home. Seegers rd. is a block south of Rt. 58, and east of State rd. The Hartmans live in the third house from the corner.

'Doll of the Year'

"The Doll of the Year," being offered by the Arlington Heights Nurses club, which plans to raise $1,000 for the proposed hospital, is still being circulated in the area. It will again be on display, with its complete wardrobe, including a genuine mink stole, in Arlington Heights this weekend.

Members of the Nurses club wil have the doll at the Emerald Shop Friday afternoon and evening and all day Saturday. Residents are urged to drop in and see the doll and find out from club members how they can help the Northwest Community Hospital Center become a reality.

To Give Play

Still another group to hop on the hospital bandwagon is the newly formed Hansel and Gretal Players which will present a production of "Hansel and Gretal" August 13 at the Arlington Hts. Methodist church.

The players are a group of 12 youngsters, ranging in age from 7 to 15, and the show will be given by children, for children, as their part in helping the hospital cause. Mrs. Lu Staahl will direct the play and tickets will be sold by the players. More details will be published next week.

Give Carnival

Cheryl and Sue Stenstrup, Marianne Loss, Jackie Jones and Johnny Wright gave a carnival Monday in the Loss basement in Fairgrounds Park, Palatine. There were games with prizes, refreshments were available and a "spook house." At leas' 15 youngsters attended and proceeds amounted to nearly $5, to be turned over to the Community hospital fund.

Friend Recalls Busse As Man Of Integrity, Loyalty, Determination

Al Volz of Arlington Heights, a friend of William Busse for more than 75 years, describes the late commissioner as a man of integrity and loyalty.

Volz was associated with Busse in politics for 55 years and was a schoolmate of his at Arlington Heights grammar school.

"Bill was a man of dependability and unswerving determination," said Volz. "In the famous deadlock convention of 1904 he headed the delegation from this district and for 3 weeks and 77 ballots held his group firm for Charles S. Deneen as governor, who was eventually elected."

"If he was for anything, he was FOR it," recalled Volz. "He was a public official who was loyal to his constituents but could say 'no' when necessary. There was no passing of the buck. No false impressions. Bill gave his opinion and told the facts. He never made a promise he didn't keep."

One of Busse's strengths, said Volz, was his ability to reconcile opposing viewpoints. He did much to unify the country towns and coordinate various groups and interests.

"It is an interesting fact," said Volz, "that in 65 years of public life, Bill Busse was never once criticized or attacked by the metropolitan press. He was always spoken well of."

Stanley C. Werner, 19, formerly of Arlington Heights, was killed Tuesday in an auto-truck collision on highway 136 near Rantoul. He was an airman stationed at Chanute air force base near Rantoul and was on his way back to the field after visiting Miss Sharon Engelking in Arlington Heights.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hubbard, now of Greencastle, Ind., are also former residents. Their son was graduated from Arlington Heights nigh school in 1953.

Funeral services and interment will be later this week in Brighton, Colo., with Rice Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. The Hubbards will be at the home of Mrs. Hubbard's parents, the Alan Biggs in Brighton.

Pay Final Tribute to William Busse, 91, Mt. Prospect Pioneer

William Busse, dean of the county board and first citizen of the northwest suburbs, died Saturday night in Sherman hospital, Elgin, at the age of 91.

He leaves behind him an unexcelled record of more than 65 years of public service.

Mr. Busse entered the hospital June 18 with an illness described as a heart condition complicated by advanced age.

All but 2 sisters reside in Elk Grove township.

BUSSE RETIRED from the county board last December after 52 years of service. He was a pioneer in the development of northwest Cook county and has long been identified with its progress.

Commissioner Busse was born in 1864 in the original Busse homestead at Algonquin and Arlington Heights roads. When he was 16, he assisted his father on the present August Busse farm. His earlier school days were spent in the Elk Grove Lutheran school at route 58 and Linnemann rd. He never had more than a grammar school education, but his parents saw to it that he had all of the educational advantages expected of a farmer's son. Following his confirmation, he entered the Arlington Heights public school. One of his classmates was Albert F. Volz and that friendship, formed 79 years ago, has continued to this day.

Eventually his father erected a

Animal Hospital Gets Green Light From Village

Dr. Charles Esser will be permitted to build an animal hospital on E. Northwest hwy., just east of the Stonegate subdivision, as a result of action taken by the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night.

Trustees John Hoover and Frederick Weber, who were on a special committee investigating the matter, told the board it had no legal right to deny the permit and the board had no alternative but to issue it. Trustees Robert Bishop and Richard Bronwell did not approve the issuance of the permit.

THE BOARD approved the issuance of a building permit for Lot 53 in Stonegate subdivision. The lot was partly zoned commercial and partly zoned residential and the owner sought a permit to erect a medical building. The permit will be issued with the stipulation that only the part zoned commercial may be used for the building.

Hugo J. Thal, village attorney, was authorized to draw up the first draft of the new subdivision ordinance. He was also authorized to draw up the bond ordinance for the purchase of a new fire truck, which was approved by the voters last spring.

APPOINTMENT OF Consoer, Townsend and Associates as village engineers was approved by the board.

Homeowners in the Virginia Terrace subdivision appeared before the board in regard to the 5-acre park area in the subdivision. The park has been used as a dumping ground by the developer and, according to the spokesman for the group, is in an unsightly condition. Village Manager F. Robert Buechner will inform the developer to restore the land to its original condition.

Issue Permit For Westgate Shopping Center

Permit for the Westgate shopping center to be located on W. Campbell, at Wilke, Arlington Heights, was issued Tuesday and ground is expected to be broken the week of August 8.

The center to be completed in 1956, will contain 10 stores, including a National Tea, and office space for 8 to 10 doctors and dentists. The $320,000 center is being developed by Landau and Perlman, with Howard Krafsur handling arrangements.

BESIDES THE National, which will occupy a section 85x140 feet, there will be a variety store, operated by the W. A. Hornsby Co., which will be 50x130 feet. Other shops to be located in the center are a children's wear store under the management of Mrs. J. M. Bosch of Arlington Heights; hardware store, drug store and cleaning store.

The developers are still seeking someone to take space for a shoe store, women's dress shop and a dry goods or junior department store.

All shops will front on Campbell and will be set off with a canopied walk. Parking for 350 cars will be provided in front of the center and at the side. The medical offices will face Wilke rd.

Stratton Signs Controversial "Crest" Bill

Word from Springfield last week reported the signing of the so-called "Arlington Crest Bill" into law by Gov. Stratton.

THIS LAW will permit the withdrawal of Arlington Crest, Arlington Park, the railroad, and other property from the newly-organized city of Rolling Meadows.

Louis Ancel, attorney for the city, said Monday he planned to oppose in court the petitions for withdrawal if the city council so desired. He questions the validity of the law.

The organization of Rolling Meadows was the subject of much discussion and litigation at the time of incorporation several months ago.

Territory far removed from the community of Rolling Meadows was included in what some people in those areas labeled as a "land grab for taxing purposes."

Under existing law, there was no way for Arlington Crest, the race track, and others to avoid inclusion in the city.

Residents of Arlington Crest community sought the services of Attorney Francis E. Kelly of Palatine, who told them there was no way out through existing laws, but that maybe a new law could be passed by the legislature that could remedy the situation.

A BILL WAS drafted by Attorney Kelly. It passed both houses of the legislature with the active support of Representative Vander Vries and Senator Bidwell.

The new law provides that territory in a newly incorporated city can detach from that city by a petition to the County court signed by a majority of the voters and by a majority of the property owners representing more than 51 per cent of the property in the area to be detached.

The new law will permit Arlington Crest, the race track, and others to get out of Rolling Meadows and will also clear the way for such territory to join Palatine if it is desired.

Petitions for withdrawal are now being circulated in these areas.

Street Square Dance

At the Eastwood board of directors meeting held July 12 at the home of Lou Larson it was voted unanimously to hold a street square dance this summer. A dance committee has not been appointed yet, so definite plans and arrangements are still being made. Committee chairmen for the coming year are social, Hank Wallace; civic affairs, Frank Patton; welcoming, Dorothy Raasch; special services committee, Charles Heinz, Stu Fitz-Patrick, Lorraine Gustafson, and Norm Hoym; safety, Ben Yunker and Gail Riley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schneller greeted 50 relatives and family friends at a bon voyage party July 13 honoring Mrs. Pauline Schneller, Joe's mother at their home on N. Beverly. The party was given jointly by Joe and his twin brothers, Frank and Fritz of Chicago. Their mother is leaving on a 2-month trip to Austria where she will renew acquaintances with relatives she has not seen for 35 years.

House Guest

A little house guest at the Aspengren home this week is the twins' cousin, Karen Masen of Chicago.

Lenore Radosti, the Len Radostis' elder daughter, entertained 10 girl friends July 16 at an afternoon party in celebration of her 12th birthday. The girls enjoyed refreshments and played games, including a scavenger hunt with 2 teams. Lenore's guests were Susan Edmonds, Kay Hithower, Joyce Crane, Sharon and Marilyn Smith, Caroline Neas, Christine Bylski, Sandy Thompson, Jennifer Snelten and Dorothy Kieek. Each of the girls received a box of social correspondence notes. A second celebration in the evening with grandparents, aunts and uncles climaxed this all important day for Lenore.

Jennifer Snelten was feted at a belated birthday celebration Sunday when relatives enjoyed a barbecue supper party at the Snelten home on Brighton.

Visitors in Eastwood this last weekend were the Robert Gair family, who formerly liven on Euclid ave. They are now residents of Wauwatosa, Wis.

In Hospital

A speedy recovery wish is extended to Jackie Mutti who is confined in Resurrection hospital with a serious eye injury incurred Sunday evening while playing catch with a league ball in front of his house. His parents report he will not have to undergo surgery as had been anticipated.

Arthur Sailer is home this week nursing a finger that came close to being a goner due to a little automobile accident. While unhooking the bumpers of the cars involved he all but dismembered his finger. Quick and courteous action by a couple of Chicago policemen who rushed him to the Belmont hospital for a stitching job saved the day for Arthur.

Fire In Basement

Eileen Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O'Hare of Coral Gables, Fla., had a terrifying experience recently while visiting at the home of their son in Park Ridge. During the night Mr. O'Hare heard a crackling noise coming from the basement which turned out to be a fire. He awakened the rest of the family and all escaped uninjured, but shock put Mrs. O'Hare in Resurrection hospital for 3 days. The O'Hares are spending the summer with the Andersons.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Derus and children returned from a week's vacation in the New York area where the family was house hunting in anticipation of their moving east in the near future. They also visited landmarks in the area among Valley Forge.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Lambert, 207 N. Brighton place, dined at the Pump room in the Ambassador East hotel July 16 with Ray Bolger, movie and television dancing comedian and James Rickard of Hollywood, president of B and R Confections Co. The group discussed the introduction of a new ice box fudge, soon to be marketed.

Westgate News

Recently moved to Westgate from Chicago are Kathleen and Robert Alm, 234 N. Yale ave. They have 3 children, Sharon Kay, who will be 12 in November, Bobby, 9 years old and Linda, 4 years old. Mr. Alm is a salesman for the Sonway Importing company. All attend Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church.

Incidentally, while the younger children do not lack for playmates, Sharon Kay is experiencing some difficulty in meeting youngsters in her age group. Perhaps some of the residents have children who would like to help Sharon feel at home in the community.

Correction

Unfortunately an error was made in last week's issue regarding the address and place of business of Mary and Nick Barkulis. They live at 31 Reuter and Mr. Barkulis is the manager of Grocerland at the Elms Shopping center.

This-N-That

County Seeks 20,000 Square Ft. Minimum for All Septic Tanks

The county board will be asked to restrict the use of septic tanks in the unincorporated areas of the county to large lots.

Chief fighter for the proposed restriction is new board member Charles F. Chaplin. Chaplin, the chairman of the board's building and zoning committee, says he is convinced present regulations do not sufficiently protect the home owner. He says present law permits unscrupulous contractors to sell homes with inadequate sewage disposal facilities. Home buyers, says Chaplin, are generally unaware that the law does not insure that new subdivisions will have adequate sewage disposal facilities.

CHAPLIN proposes that septic tanks, now permitted on lots of 10,000 square feet be restricted to lots of 20,000 square feet or more.

Ben Leland, the county's chief sanitary engineer, will join Chaplin in urging the county board to stiffen septic tank requirements. Leland says lots larger than the present minimum are necessary to insure not only proper sewage disposal but also adequate flood control.

A soil percolation test is now required of any builder who plans to use a septic tank. This test, which must be made by a registered engineer, is designed to show whether the soil can absorb seepage from the tank. But Leland agrees with Chaplin that the percolation test is inadequate assurance that the septic tank will function satisfactorily.

CHIEF opposition to Chaplin's proposal comes from John Downs, of the Chicago Regional Planning Assn. Downs contends that size alone is not the determining factor in whether a spetic tank will work well or not.

Downs argues that the best safeguard would be to leave present regulations as they are but require approval of any proposed septic tank by the county health department. (B5

Form Group to Operate Tuition Kindergarten

Parents of children of kindergarten age in community consolidated district 21 have formed themselves into a group to operate a tuition kindergarten under the supervision of the board of education.

The parents' group assumes responsibility for receiving fees and making payments for the kindergarten operation. The board of education assumes responsibility for providing a room and one-way transportation so long as is feasible in the light of other enrollment. The board will permit the school administration to have the same function of interview and recommendation in regard to a kindergarten teacher as is exercised with the regular faculty.

At a general meeting early last week parents heard the background of financial and enrollment probelms which led to cancellation of the regular kindergarten program for the school year 1955-56 and probably for the following year or 2.

The financial responsibilities involved in a tuition kindergarten as outlined by an assistant county superintendent of schools, usually involves teacher's salary and basic materials used by the kindergarten. A tuition program is developing in a number of communities due to budget and enrollment problems. School boards and parents who have been accustomed to kindergarten are reluctant to consider outright cancellation and choose the next best alternative, offering the program to those who will pay for it.

As presently seen, it will cost about $100 per year for a minimum number of children, at least 45. If the enrollment is greater, the fee can be smaller; if the enrollment should be much less, the possibility of higher fees would make kindergarten impractical.

Heavy Fines in Offing for Real Estate Tax Dodgers

Any Cook county homeowners who have been congratulating themselves on having kept their property off tax rolls with no penalty may soom have cause to be sorry they did it.

NO PENALTY is provided in law and no interest is charged when property is placed on the tax rolls and back taxes are collected. So until now anyone who escaped unnoticed by the county assessor's office faced no legal reckoning.

It won't be that way any more, the county building department promises.

Department officials point out that, in the unincorporated areas of the county, it has been possible to avoid taxes only by neglecting to get a building permit. When a building permit is taken out from the county building department, a record of it is automatically sent to the assessor's office, and the building is checked by inspectors and placed on the tax rolls when completed. Thus the only way an owner of a home in the county's large unincorporated area can keep it off the tax rolls is to avoid taking out a building permit.

A FEW MONTHS ago county assessor Frank Keenan had aerial photographs taken of all the county. Every building shows clearly these pictures can be assured a place in the county's tax picture as well.

With the cooperation of the county building department, the homes will find their way onto building department maps as well.

That's where the trouble starts for errant property owners.

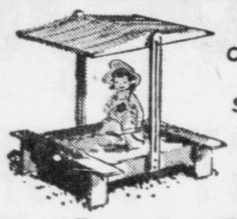

Although no penalty is provided in law for a homeowner's failure to see that his house is taxed, a penalty is provided for anyone who builds without a permit.

IT IS A STIFF one. The penalty is up to $200 a day for each day there was construction work without a permit—and an additional $200 for each day the house stands without a permit.

So the assessor's photographs may result in new entries not only in tax records but in court records as well.

The building department says it will be inclined to leniency for those who come in belatedly for their permits. But those who don't may get not only a tax bill but also a summons to explain it to the judge. (B5

Al: "Sounds kinda rich for my blood. What'd it set you back?"

Bill: "Not so much. We're paying it off a couple of bucks a week. Besides, they brought in 240-volt wiring when they put in the range. And boy, do we need it with all the appliances we've added. Hey, here comes the coffee!"

Our Saviour's Sunday School Purchases Sound Projector

Young people and adults of Our Saviour's United Lutheran Sunday school, Arlington Heights, enjoyed the showing of the first film shown on their newly acquired Bell and Howell sound projector, Sunday morning. The film, "Thy Sins are Forgiven," was a protrayal of the calling of the disciple Matthew.

The projector, which was purchased through the gift of a member of the church and from Sunday school funds, will be made available to other organizations of the church for educational programs.

Peggy Lynn Yotti, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Yotti of Palatine, was baptized at the 9 a.m. service last Sunday with the Rev. George H. Hoog, pastor, officiating.

All interested in membership in the church are asked to call pastor Hoog at VAnderbilt 4-0013. New members will be received August 7, at which time the sacrament of holy communion will be administered.

Flag That Flew Above Capitol Purchased By Arlington High

The Arlington Heights high school purchased a flag furnished through the courtesy of the capitol architect, J. George Stewart, which has flown on the west side of the dome of the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

The school's request for the flag was sent to Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Congress then relayed the request to the capitol architect and the flag was flown briefly from a staff on the dome. Accompanying the flag was a letter certifying that it did fly above the capitol.

The school purchased a flag 5 feet by 8 feet for $6.50. The new flag will be flown from the school's staff on special occasions.

Wayside Catholic Womans Club Opens Membership Drive

The membership committee of the Catholic Womans club of Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, will begin its annual drive for members this week. Mrs. Walter Schroeder Jr., 6 South Ridge ave., Arlington Heights will direct the drive.

In order to stimulate membership and increase the number of spiritual benefits for members, Rev. Harold T. O'Hara has recently received approval from His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch for the erection of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Womans club as a sodality of Our Lady with affiliation to the Prima Primaria in Rome. The papers have been sent to Rome and the charter will be received during August.

The Prima Primaria sodality is the original sodality established at the Roman college and is the mother sodality which is empowered to communicate to other sodalities all its privileges and indulgences. As soon as a woman becomes a member of the Wayside Catholic Womans club, she immediately shares in the privileges, indulgences and other spiritual graces granted to sodalists.

The Catholic Woman's club, which is an integral part of the parish, is dedicated to furthering its material, social and spiritual interests. Membership is open to all women of the parish and social membership is available to Catholic women outside the parish. Members of the club receive holy communion in a body the first Sunday of each month at 7 a.m. mass.

Here's Scouting

With Explorer Scout Bill Hogate

Kankakee River Canoe Trek

The Explorer Crew of troop 7, Arlington Heights, sponsored by the local Lions club, enjoyed a canoe trip down the Kankakee river, from Schneider, Ind., to Wilmington, Ill., on the weekend of July 9 an 10, reports scoutmaster Don E. Traver. The boys paddled approximately 60 treacherous and wilderness miles, cooked their own meals along the river bank, and picked up a little sunburn along the way. Explorers Dave Buren, Fred Fischer, Bill Menefee, and James Traver, accompanied by James Moore and Don E. Traver, adviser of troop 7's explorer crew, composed the group which made the trip.

Hail From Napowan

Boys returning from Camp Napowan, the Northwest Surburban council camp at Wild Rose, Wis., are still enthusiastic about exploring the open trail and the companionship of the campfire. At the end of each two-week period new recruits bid mom and dad goodbye and roll along by bus over the countryside toward Napowan, [illegible] future citizens.

Don't forget to send your summer scouting news so we can all share vacation experiences.

THIS IS YOUR V.F.W.

by GEORGE MILLER

The VFW ever since its birth has been the nation's number one advocator of ever alert national defense. For over 50 years the VFW through its National Encampment has passed resolutions urging the United States government to keep a well trained peace time army and to set up a program of workable Universal Military Training, which would be flexible enough that it would not disrupt the normal routine of the American boy.

Year after year the Commander-In-Chief of the VFW has appeared before the Senate and Congress begging them to be ever aware of foreign nations' activities.

LONG BEFORE Congress ever took the Communist party and like organizations to heart the VFW once again was the forerunner of urging the American people to beware of these organizations.

The VFW has policed its own organization and wherever any indication of un-American activities loomed they were thoroughly investigated without front page publicity and where it was determined that such activities existed they were removed from the organization and have been continuously watched so they may never again become a part of the VFW.

THE VFW is made up of men who know what the hells of war can produce, for the majority of their members have tasted enemy fire. They realize that the least relaxing on the part of our government may again result in a world war and so are ever alert in urging that at no time should our guard be let down. (AKP

Zonta International To Sponsor Migrant Teenager Dance Friday

It was announced this week by the Northwest Cook county chapter of Zonta International, that the group will hold the second party for migrant teenagers this coming Friday. Similiar in organization to the AAUW Migrant school, Zonta endeavors to encourage the 13 to 18-year-old teenagers to participate in this party.

When the first party was held, it was on a trial basis to see if the migrant teenagers would be interested in such a project. Over 90 girls and boys attended with overwhelming enthusiasm.

This Friday the party will be a dance. The migrant youth will bring various musical instruments and records and Zonta will contribute refreshments and a record player. Mixer dances and entertainment will also be on the agenda. Mrs. Dan Whitehead, Glenview, is chairman of this project and several women in the suburban area belong to this philanthropic organization. ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PHARMACY Monthly News

A message from George Harris, 'Your Pharmacist'

THE PRACTICE OF PHARMACY is daily becoming so complex, that the Colleges of Pharmacy have just decided that in the future, a Pharmacist will have to study for five years instead of the usual four.

ANY MEDICINE, whether it be a prescription, or one of the so called "Patent Medicines" can be potentially harmful if not properly taken.

ONLY A PHYSICIAN is learned enough to properly advise you what medicine to take.

ONLY A PHARMACIST is taught the complete knowledge necessary to compound medicines, and how to best preserve and protect medicines so that they are potent when you get them.

ACCORDING TO A MOST PROPER LAW it is not only a moral, but the required legal duty of every Pharmacist to make certain that any medicine you get from him is a safe medicine to take.

THAT IS WHY we must have a license to practice Pharmacy, and thoughtful people are always careful to get any medicine from a Pharmacist.

Rev. Behrens Attends Lutheran Conference

Six hundred national and district representatives of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod began a series of meetings this week at Concordia college, St. Paul, Minn. to consider a proposed budget of $13,700,000 for the next fiscal year and to participate in seminars on administration, doctrine and practice, preaching and stewardship.

The Rev. Edgar H. Behrens of Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, represented this area at the conference as visitor of the Chicago North Circuit of the English district.

The record-breaking proposed budget represents an increase of more than 4 million dollars over the budget for the current year. The largest part of the increase will be used for capital improvements financed previously by special offerings, if the budget is adopted during the coming week.

Lay evaluations of the synod and of the parish pastor were given by Paul W. Friedrich, St. Louis, executive director of the Lutheran Laymen's league, and Henry Buck, Kansas City, Mo., attorney and member of the board of directors of the church body.

The sermon at the opening service was delivered by the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnken, Missouri Synod president.

Highest contribution per member was given by Trinity Lutheran church, Fisher, Minn., where the average contribution was $75.

Commissioner Busse Gave A Lifetime Of Service

creamery across the road and opened a store where his son learned the butter and cheese-making trade. In years to come, young William's business ventures were to include a general store in Mount Prospect, a farm implement concern which was later sold to John Meyn, a hardware store, and a garage and 2 Buick agencies. Mr. Busse was also head of the Mount Prospect State Bank since its establishment in 1911.

For more than half a century he was an influential leader in the Republican party.

SEVERAL YEARS ago he told in his own words how he entered politics:

"It was only by chance that I entered public service," related Commissioner Busse at that time. "James H. Gilbert had been elected Republican sheriff of Cook county in 1890. My name was suggested by William Thieman and sponsored by George Struckman, of Bartlett, who were then prominent Republican leaders of suburban Cook county. They called at my father's home late one night and dad promised them that I would accept the job of deputy sheriff. I was not so sure that I wanted it. I had recently purchased a 150-acre farm. I was told that previous deputy sheriffs only worked 3 days a week and their office did not interfere very much with their business. Sheriff Gilbert was a different kind of public official. He insisted that every deputy be at his desk by 9 a.m.. I sold my farm and remained a deputy, an office which I held 10 years until 1900, when I was elected county commissioner."

At 27, he was the youngest deputy sheriff ever appointed in Cook county.

In 1894 he moved to Mount Prospect and built the fourth house erected there. When the village was incorporated in 1917, he served as its first president for 12 years. For half a century he was a member of the county central committee of the Republican party.

FROM 1900 to 1954 he served consecutively on the county board with the exception of 1912-1914 when the Bull Moose party swept all offices.

It was in this capacity that Commissioner Busse performed many of his services to the country towns.

In 1919 Busse brought the first paved road to Mount Prospect.

In those days, the county selected the road to be improved and the paving expense was split between the county and the state. Commissioner Busse saw to it that his home town was placed on the paving program, which resulted in paving of Central rd. At the suggestion of Busse, the contractor offered to pave, at a modest cost, Main st., 18 ft. wide, from Central south to the railroad. The village board was told that the cost of graveling the road would equal 25 per cent of paving cost and agreed to pay the amount as its share of paving costs. Adjoining property owners paid the balance.

BUSSE IS THE father of the Northwest highway.

It was at a meeting held in the old Des Plaines vilage hall as a welcome gesture to Benjamin Electric's purchase of its present property that Busse suggested steps be taken to build a highway along the railroad tracks through Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, and Barrington. He saw to it that the Northwest highway was selected as one of the roads to be improved from a $5,000,000 bond issue.

His interest in roads was developed by his grandfather who for 27 years was highway commissioner in Elk Grove township. He was at his elbow all the time, learning about roads.

During his first term as president of the county board, Busse completed the court house without paying extras to the contractor, started the juvenile home, and was active in rebuilding the county hospital. The location and building of Oak Forest infirmary was during his administration. It was he who insisted that provision be made at Oak Forest for married couples to reside together and it was he who kept that practice in force although efforts were at one time made to separate wives and husbands.

It was through his efforts that a gas line was secured into Mount Prospect.

THE NORTHWESTERN Gas Light and Coke co. of Evanston intended to bypass Arlington Heights because Peter Beyer, a member of the village board, was insisting upon a cut for the village of 2 per cent in the gross receipts of the gas company. In order the force the company to terms, he asked his friend, Busse, to see to it that the Elk Grove highway commissioners refused to give a right-of-way along Central rd. Busse himself was a good bargainer, and he told Beyer, "I will do it if you will get the Wheeling highway commissioners to refuse a right-of-way unless Mount Prospect is given gas." Beyer agreed.

In 1935 he vigorously fought for an elevated super-highway to serve the northwest side of Chicago. In 1948, as recognition of his long devotion to the cause of forest preserves, Elk Grove forest preserve was renamed William Busse Forest.

THE COUNTY BOARD in 1950 honored Busse with a resolution which said, in part, "As Mr. Busse's tenure has bridged every social and political upheaval in the last 50 years, so has his service transcended partisanship; be he a member of a majority or a minority group, his advice, counsel, industry, and judgment have been sought and gratefully received by each administration. His wisdom and experience having ever been exercised on behalf of the people of the county and its institutions, he has by this integrity and devotion to duty carved in the history of his country a place that is both inspirational and monumental."

In his local community, Busse also served as secretary of the school board and was active in founding the St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church.

March 17 ground was broken for the new William Busse school, which is being erected in the northeast section of Mount Prospect as a tribute to his long devotion to the cause of better schools.

He was married twice. His first wife, the former Sophie Bartels, was the mother of 5 children. She died in 1894. His second wife, the former Dina Busse, died in 1941. A son, William J., also preceded him in death.

Until his death, Commissioner Busse resided at his home at 100 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect.

The last regular meeting of the Future Homes 4-H club was held July 11 at the home of Mary Kaiser. Mary gave a talk on "Clothing," Louis Von Bergen gave a talk on "Germs in Food," Mary Kaiser talked about the "Fundamental Five of Safe Food Service," Vern Krause gave a talk on "Food Poisoning," and Pat Wuestenfeld talked on "Tools for Sewing."

It was announced that the club made a profit of $68.22 from the talent dance. Sherry De Palma was awarded a blue ribbon for the essay she wrote on "Electricity." Local achievement for the club will be Judy 20 at Elk Grove school at 7:30 p.m. Susan Kappa and Judy Kessler will give a demonstration that evening.

The club went on a tour of a fabric shop in Bensenville July 15. At the last meeting each club member cast one vote each for a candidate for king of the 4-H fair and queen of the fair. Lois von Bergen of the Future Homes club is one of five girls who are candidates for queen. The king and queen will be crowned August 12, the first day of the fair.

The club talked about their booth for the fair, and the meeting was closed. The next meeting will be at the home of Judy Kessler July 26. This meeting is to help the girls fill out the project books.

The TNT 4-H club met July 11 at the home of Susi Carter. The following girls gave handicraft talks or demonstrations: Judy Wille, "Candy;" Joan Klamer, "Brownies;" Sally Wichman, "Paper Mats;" Nancy Wichman, "Rick Rack Earrings;" Ann Nunamaker, "Making A Rug," Kay Mahler, "How to Make Matching Fringed Table Cloths and Napkins;" Linda Glassie "Safety;" and Charlotte Popp, "Scrapbooks."

Committee reports were given, and it was decided that the booth committee should meet July 18 at Mrs. Mahler's. Nancy Wichman received a blue ribbon for her essay on "Electricity."

Six girls from the club are going to go to the "Record School" in Arlington Heights July 21. The purpose of the school is to help girls who have had 2 or more years of club work to fill out sheets concerning their projects and all activities that they have participated in concerning 4-H.

The proposed picnic at Cedar Lake and Achievement Day were discussed. The girls were given invitations to give to their mothers for Achievement Night. After the business meeting the girls voted for king and queen of the 4-H fair, and some of the girls had their clothing projects looked over by the leaders. After the girls played a game, refreshments were served. The next meeting does not have a definate date; it will be decided at Achievement Night.

Covering Northwest and West Suburban Sports

MAC SAYS

— by G. A. McElroy

STARTING NEXT WEEK the main part of this column will be devoted to a description of golf courses of the area served by Paddock Publications. The first courses to be covered will be those where the golf leagues operate which send their leaders to Paddock Publications golf tournament, this year to be held at Arlington golf club Sunday, August 21.

Courses to be covered in this survey will include Arlington, Rob Roy, Roselle, Mohawk, Mt. Prospect, and Old Orchard. We shall have a special on Inverness at the time of the opening of their new club house when the order of hole by hole play will be changed at the course.

THIS BEING PALATINE'S CENTENNIAL YEAR it would be very fitting for the high school football team to win the Northwest conference championship, and they may do just that. The Pirates lost some of their finest performers with the graduation of Alan Eck, Douglas Hillesheim, and Tom Hillesheim, but Coach Charley Feutz will have lots of fine material returning with lettermen available for every position on the team, and plenty of reserve strength.

Last year Palatine lost only one game, a 7-0 decision to Glenbrook's undefeated champs, and the Pirates meet the Spartans at Glenbrook in the league opener after a non-conference game at home in mid-September with Barrington. Palatine has won three championships already in 1955, taking both track titles and the golf trophy.

THIS PAST YEAR nine official state champions were crowned in high school activities with New Trier of Winnetka having the best record with 2 championships and 2 runner-up positions. The Terriers took golf and tennis championships, and finished second in tract and wrestling.

The only other school mentioned twice in the list of champs and runnerups in nine activities is Elgin, taking second in basketball and speech. The state does not recognize individual school championships in music.

ALAN ECK AND DOUGLAS HILDEBRANDT, all-conference stars of Palatine's 1954 team, and two of the best ever to play for the gray and maroon, will be out for the football team at Miami university in Florida this fall. Both will be going on athletic scholarships of a very attractive type with the main consideration from a sports angle the playing of football.

Eck was the best backfield man ever to play for Palatine and Hildebrandt was one of the finest linemen playing end on offense and tackle on defense. They will join Bob Nolan, who went to Miami from Waukonda two years ago and developed into a star end.

DISTRICT 9 JUNIOR LEGION baseball was a two team race this year. Up to this past weekend Park Ridge, made up largely of Maine township players who won the West Suburban crown, was undefeated. Portage Park, made up of some of Schurz high's state champs had but one defeat, a loss to Park Ridge, until this past week when Arlington Heights blasted them out of the championship picture. After a slow start Arlington came fast to gain third place.

AT THIS WRITING the White Sox are only 1½ games behind the Yanks with a chance to catch up when Casey Stengl's team comes to town in a few days. Chicago has a tendency to fold and stop hitting when they see Yankee uniforms. It has happened so often we are wondering if this time will be an exception to the rule.

We always pull for the White Sox and they are our favorites but, honestly, the Boston Red Sox look to us like potential champs if anyone can overtake the Yanks.

The Classic at Arlington Park Saturday did not result in the upset that has been so common at Arlington in the big race. Nashua had a tough time winning by half a length, however. We still think Swaps can beat Nashua in a match race.

WAS JACK FLECK'S national open championship just a flash in the pan? The fact he was not among the 60 low qualifiers at Milwaukee this past week would indicate that is the case.

Wait until you see what he does in George May's big money tournament at Tam-O-Shanter before passing judgment on him. He was bound to have a letdown with all the publicity he has received in the past few weeks.

A schedule change has been set for Saturday, July 23. The new starting time for the Recreation Park games will be 12 noon instead of the scheduled 1 p.m. The opening game of the Junior Legion consolation round is slated for 1:30 on the park diamond.

Rolling Meadows' Pony League Team Drops Opener, 13-7

The Pony League team bearing the name "Rolling Meadows" had their first official game Saturday as guests of the Mt. Prospect Pony Leaguers. The game was played at the South Side park in Mt. Prospect.

Mt. Prospect won, 13-7, but the score was not an indication of the game that was played. The highlights of the game were very good pitching by Bobby Doerr and Mike Locascio—defensive play of T. Broderick, Don Slonecker, Don Moses, Don Carlson, and Gary Moreland. Arthur Nyhlin, Jr. led in the hitting department. Terry Loveless, Dave Wertheimer, Johnny Setzer, Bob Schultz, Gene Crandall, and Andy Hayden also played fine games.

Manager Bill Golden and his 2 assistants, Bill Stegeman and Harold Newberg, stated after the game that the boys will come along well after working on the general fundamentals of the game.

The Rolling Meadows Pony League plays this Friday, July 22, at 6 p.m. at the Palatine high school ball field.

Incapreo Sparks All-Star Win

Paul Incapreo, a product of last summer's Arlington Pony League program, stole the show for Palatine's Babe Ruth league All-Star team Tuesday night when he drove in 5 runs on a triple and single to pace the Palatine Stars to a convincing 10-5 win over the Kilbourne Park team. The Palatine squad was slated to play another game in the playoff series tonight (Thursday).

Incapreo's 3-bagger came with the bases loaded and helped set off the Palatine offensive. Paul's other 2 RBI's came on a single. Hurling for the winners was Helm with King behind the plate.

Included in the lineup of the local All-Stars was Rich Wisner, talented infielder who recently was selected for the ninth district junior legion all-star team. Rich, like Incapreo, will be a sophomore at Palatine High this fall.

The All-Star team is made up of players from the 4 teams in the Babe Ruth league — Coleman's Drugs, Browns, Fiddes-Moore, and Orioles. A story on the first half of league play can be found elsewhere in the paper.

Home Run Robert

Everybody in Philadelphia has been asking, "What's wrong with Roberts?" Although he seems well on his way to his sixth 20-game season with an even dozen victories through July 6, he recently lost three out of four starts in the West and had to scramble for his two most recent triumphs.

Roberts has been hit hard, and The Sporting News says he's heading for Murry Dickson's major league record of throwing 39 home run balls in a season. With the season only half over, Roberts has given up 23 homers.

The Giants walked away with the Central League race in the Arlington Heights Little League, clinching the championship July 15, with a 5-3 victory over the Pirates. Going into this week's action the champions had completed an 11-2-1 record to lead the league by 5 games.

Mt. Prospect CC Wins 2 In Little League Action

by BILL GODMAN

The Country club defeated the VFW, 11-8, in a Mt. Prospect Little League game that saw 6 homers, 3 on each side. The contest was played at Owens Park, July 15.

There were 20 hits in the game, 11 for the Country club and 9 for the VFW. The most surprising thing of the contest was that both the starting pitchers went the distance for their teams. John Koester took the win and Chuck Ratkeike was tagged with the loss.

Each team garnered 2 runs in the first inning, but the Country club went ahead to stay when in the second, second baseman Ron Schafer smashed a 3-run homer to left center. Pitcher John Koester and shortstop Bob Hendon also hit for the circuit to aid the Country club's couse.

HITTING HOMERS for the VFW were catcher Dick Goeltz, third baseman Jeff Rogers and pitcher Chuck Rateike. As was the case in their last game, the Country club ran into trouble in the sixth inning but this time they were able to hold on to their lead and record a well-earned victory.

Jim Anderson's bases-loaded triple in the fifth inning proved to be the winning blow as the Country club defeated a stubborn Builder team, 7-6, in a game played at Owens Park on July 16. Anderson's blow was preceeded by a single by winning pitcher Ron Schaffer, a hit batsman and a walk to right-fielder Ed Stolaman.

With the Country club leading 7-5 in the sixth, the Builders pushed across 1 run but with the tying rally on first, Schaffer struck out losing pitcher Bill Alfini to end the game.

The big man in the Builders' attack was catcher Erber, with 2 hits and a walk. He also scored a run. Shortstop Johnny Koester and Schafer had 2 hits a piece for the Country club.

A mit was found at Owens Park after one of the Little League games. The owner should contact Mrs. Thorne at CL 5-0835.

6 Boys Honored From Arlington, Palatine Squads

by BOB FRISK

Team together the best southpaw pitcher in the area with two strong-armed hurlers, one who helped pitch Schurz high school to the state baseball title, add a hustling catcher who has impressed Major League scouts, and you have the core of the 1955 ninth district All-Star team.

If the battery is the key to how the fourth annual All-Star game between the seventh and ninth districts will turn out, August 7 at Park Ridge, the ninth district is in good shape. For in Arlington's Johnny Sujack they have a portsider who recently knocked off the 2 top district teams within 3 days and who possesses an enviable 0.78 earned run average. Then there's Al Otto, the fireballing Portage Park hurler who teamed with Jim another junior legion product, this spring to pitch Schurz high to the state crown.

PARK RIDGE A's Ron Rutkowski, the leading West Suburban conference batter with a .438 mark, set Portage Park down, 1-0, on 3 hits, July 16, to give the Park Ridge team the ninth district title. Rutkowski swings from the left side and plays right field or first base when he's not pitching.

The top backstop in the area is Portage Park's Roger Jenne, a fireball behind the plate who was featured in this week's Sporting News as an outstanding Major League prospect. A Philadelphia Phillies scout has placed high praise on the hustling catcher.

Arlington and Palatine had 6 boys selected on the honor squad, and their two coaches, Dave Ryden and Claude Bailey, will handle the assignments of assistant and head coach of the Stars respectively. Representing the Poole Fords in the tilt will be Sujack, Denny Thill as a utility infielder, Ed Meinken, bespectacled catcher with the strong arm, and Ron Ashley, the "best" defensive outfielder in the area according to many observers. Palatine's Bob Hamilton, talented pitcher and hitter, and Rich Wisner, shortstop, who will be a sophomore at Palatine this fall, were also selected on the team. Honorary member of the team is Arlington's injured short stop-outfielder Bob Getts.

ARLINGTON'S John Sujack turned "giant-killer" last week, trimming Park Ridge, 4-3, and Portage Park, 2-0, within 3 days. The two victims finished 1-2 in the final ninth district standings.

Jenne, Portage's talented catcher adequately summed up his team's opinion of Sujack after the lefty had fashioned the best pitching job of the summer in blanking Portage, 2-0, on 2 hits. "What are you going to do when you can't get around on him in the first place, then he takes you off stride with the slow stuff too. I've been playing semi-pro ball and I haven't seen a better pitcher than Sujack."

John fanned 13 batters in his brilliant work, including 7 in a row at the end of the game, and walked nary a batter. Clutch hitting in the contest was delivered by Ed Meinken with a run-producing triple. The locals' first tally was unearned.

ARLINGTON'S 7 game winning streak was snapped, July 15, in convincing fashion. Oak Park's Bill Carlson threw a no-hitter at the Fords as the strong River Forest post rolled to a 10-0 win. Saturday Oak Park came to Arlington and took their second straight victory, 7-3. However, the locals' attack wasn't as futile as in the previous game and they rapped out 5 hits. Thill, the starting and losing pitcher, collected 2 safeties and looked good on the mound before yielding the reins to Al Smeby. Al turned in another strong relief job.

Sunday the Fords edged the cocky Park Ridge A squad, ninth district champs, 4-3, on a clutch single by Dan Vittum in the top of the seventh.

THE GAME was a see-saw affair with Park Ridge grabbing an abbreviated 1-0 lead in the first frame on a single by Rutkowski and bloop hit by Leroy Fick which resulted in a head injury to Arlington's Bob Getts. Bob fell going back for the pop fly and will be sidelined for 4 weeks.

Arlington tied the score on singles by Sujack and Ashley and an error by the first baseman. They added 2 more in the sixth when, with 1 out, Thill walked, Vittum was hit by a pitched ball, Jim Summers walked, Sujack was safe on a fielder's choice, and "Tiny" Meinken lashed a base knock to left field scoring Vittum and Summers.

With the score knotted in the seventh Larry Webber and Thill punched out singles, Webber tallying on Vittum's clutch blow to left. Sujack walked 1 man in the last inning but retired the side in orderly fashion. The free pass was his first in the last 14 innings.

Saturday, July 23, the locals will take on Palatine in the first game of a consolation series at Recreation Park. Game time is 1:30—Sujack vs. Hamilton!

District All-Stars

Park Ridge A and Arlington dominated the selections for the ninth district all-Stars with 9 of the 17 choices. Park Ridge had 5 boys honored on the team while the Poole Fords had 4 boys selected.

The boys chosen at the ninth district meeting Monday night included: infielders, Bill Liedholm (Park Ridge A), Steve Vosseler (Franklin Park), Rich Wisner (Palatine), John Perrill (Park Ridge A), and Denny Thill (Arlington); outfielders, Ron Ashley (Arlington), Jon Richardson (Park Ridge A), Dick Sanders (Portage Park), and Jim Fandel (Franklin Park).

The 3 catchers honored included Roger Jenne (Portage Park), Leroy Fick (Park Ridge A), and Ed Meinken (Arlington). Handling the All-Stars' mound chores will be John Sujack (Arlington), Al Otto (Portage Park), Ron Rutkowski (Park Ridge A), Bob Hamilton (Palatine), and Bruce Baldwin (Park Ridge B).

$150,000 Futurity At Track Saturday

by HARRY SHEER

The two-year-old of thoroughbred racing has his day Saturday at Arlington Park when the popular northwest suburban plant highlights its next to last weekend of racing with the $150,000 Arlington Futurity.

A large field of some 15 well-bred, highly-regarded youngsters will parade postward in the 26th running of the 6 furlongs contest. From Saturday's field will come the midwest's first serious bid for national two-year-old honors.

Some of America's finest thoroughbreds of the past have used the Futurity as a springboard to racing fame. A survey of the 26-year-old event reveals such famed names as Grand Slam (1935), Sun Again (1941), Free For All (1944), Spy Song (1945), Mr. Busher (1948), To Market (1950), Hill Gail (1951), and Hasty Road (1953).

IF JOCKEY Eddie Arcaro journeys to Chicago Saturday — and there's the chance that he'll have the mount on Calumet Farm's Fabius—he'll shoot for an unprecedented consecutive triple in the rich purse.

Arcaro won the event with a speedy Roman colt, owned by the Hasty House Farms, by the name of Hasty Road. Later Arcaro and Hasty Road combined talents for anequally profitable victory in the rich Washington Park Futurity.

Last year Arcaro was aboard Royal Note, swift son of another Arlington Futurity winner, Spy Song, as the two-year-old romped to a 2½ length victory in the 6 furlongs sprint.

Outstanding candidates in Saturday's lucrative Futurity are Harvey C. Fruehauf's foreign-bred Windtrace, an undefeated youngster who has confined all his actvity thus far to the Arlington strip; Homeplace, the Tomlinson colt, who is a Nasrullah product; Calumet Farm's Fabius, one of the first Citation offspring; and Golden Bear, a colt being shipped from California.

SHUT OUT BALL

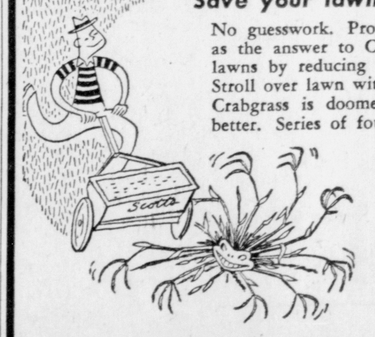

American League pitchers so far this year have pitched almost twice as many shutouts as have National League hurlers. Up through July 4, says The Sporting News, 97 shutouts had been pitched in the majors. The American League had 61 of them, almost double the 36 racked up in the National.

Orioles Win Babe Ruth League; Coleman Drugs Capture 2nd

The Orioles clinched the first half championship of the Palatine Babe Ruth League last Friday by defeating the Fiddes-Moore team, 13 to 1. Only one more postponed game, with the Coleman Drugs, remains on their schedule, and as they have a 2-game lead over the runner-up Coleman Drugs, this game will not affect the league standings.

	Won	Lost
Orioles	7	1
Coleman Drugs	5	3
Browns	4	5
Fiddes-Moore	1	8

The Orioles, under Manager "Phil" Jarczyk, hustled all through the season, winning their first 6 games before being defeated by the Browns, 5 to 4. That game was one of the best of the season, and some poor throwing on the part of the Orioles allowed the Browns to score 2 runs in the fifth inning to take a lead which they successfully protected to hand the Orioles their first defeat. Dick Wisner proved to be the mainstay of the Oriole hurling staff, as well as their leading hitter, but received some able mound support from Don White. Tommy Martin showed that he ranked with the best catchers in the league, although he is just a year out of the Little League ranks.

THE BROWNS, composed of 13 and 14 year old players, dropped their first 5 games of the year and then surprised the rest of the League with their spirited play and Orrin Helms' splendid pitching, and won their next 4 games; highlighted by their victory over the undefeated Orioles, to bring their first-half standing to a respectable 4 and 5 record. During this victory march they overcame a 10 to 3 Fiddes-Moore lead to eke out a 13 and 12 win and make their "never say die" spirit pay dividends. If Manager Art Miller and his coaching staff can keep their boys playing "heads up" baseball during the second half, the Browns will have a big say as to the eventual winner.

Coleman Drugs, who, at the beginning of the season, loomed as the team to beat, apparently have not lived up to their playing ability. Their worst showings have occurred during crucial games, and Manager Joe Goddard and his coaches will have to overcome this difficulty; especially in making throwing errors, to remain in contention during the second half. Gerry Segebrecht, Terry Hicks and Paul Incapreo have been the mainstays of this team, although Incapreo has been unable to pitch due to an arm injury suffered before the season opened.

THE FIDDES-MOORE team, which also loomed as a strong contender before the season opened, have a strong batting attack, led by Bruce King, but aside from Bruce, who pitches one game and catches the next, and Frank Campagna, shortstop, their mound corps and their defensive play leaves something to be desired. Manager "Will" Mueller and his coaching staff have been trying to iron out these difficulties and if they succeed the team should make things interesting in the second half with their offensive strength.

A great deal of improvement has been noticed in the play of quite a number of the boys, and although some misgivings were felt about the 13-year-olds competing with boys 2 years their senior, these have been entirely forgotten as the younger boys have proved their right to places on these teams. In addition to those mentioned, the following 13-year-old boys have played good baseball throughout the first half:

Orioles—Felix Jarczyk and Dick Cadwalader.

Colemans—Peter John, Will Norton and Alvin Gephart.

Browns—Billy Dietrich, Billy Baumrucker, Bob Smith and Barney Schur.

Fiddes-Moores—Joe Bissing and Harvey Foster.

WITH THE second half expected to be much more closely contested than the first half, some good baseball games are to be expected for the fans' enjoyment and they are invited to attend the games which are played every Monday evening starting at 6:30 p.m. at the high school diamond; every Wednesday evening starting at 6:30 at the Community Park diamond and a double-header at the same diamond every Saturday afternoon, with the first game starting at 1:00 p.m.

Arlington Swimmers To Face Barrington

Arlington's 1955 swimming team will travel to Barrington Monday night to face the Barrington squad in the first meet of the summer. Starting time is 7 p.m. with 6 events on the docket.

There will be free style, breast stroke and backstroke races, plus 2 relays and diving competition in all 3 divisions for both boys and girls. The three divisions are junior—10-13; intermediate —14-16; and senior—17 and up.

Time trials for the Arlington Pool team will be held Saturday morning, July 23, at 9:30. With 5 or 6 meets during the summer, the local team should create quite a bit of interest. However, there still is the need for more older swimmers (16 and up) to show up and enter the competition.

Springer Spaniel Show At Oak Brook

Annual dog show of Great Lakes English Springer Spaniel breeders association will be held at Oak Brook polo club Sunday, July 24. This year more than 100 Springers are expected to compete in the various obedience and conformation classes.

A highlight of the show will be an outstanding demonstration of the Springer Spaniel as a hunting dog. These dogs will hunt, flush and retrieve live pheasants.

Oak Brook polo club is located on 31st street between York road and Route 83. Show hours are between 9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Capt. Will Judy will be guest speaker and master of ceremonies at the annual dinner following the show at the Cypress restaurant in Hinsdale. (Sp

All-Stars Edge Indians In Arlington Pony League

Any similarity between Saturday's All-Star Pony League game and a pitchers' duel was purely coincidental! 15 base hits, coupled with numerous walks, turned the annual Arlington Heights affair into a free-swinging, offensive display with the Stars gaining an 11-9 decision over the Indians.

Seven pitchers tried their hand at stopping the opponents but only 2 experienced any luck. For the winning All-Stars the Redlegs' Matt Gora twirled the final 4 frames, allowing only 2 hits, to gain credit for the victory. The Stars' starting hurler, Al Hutchinson, was touched for only 1 run and 1 hit in his 2 innings of work.

The contest was marked with 2 major uprisings by both clubs. After the All-Stars had jumped off to a 6-1 lead in 4 frames, the Indians came back to tally an 8 spot in the fourth for a 9-6 lead. Three innings later the Stars pushed across 5 runs in 1 frame to take the 11-9 decision.

BOB BARBOUR, who's making a habit out of home runs in Pony League play, blasted another round-tripper in this spectacle, lining a left-center shot for 4 bases in the first inning. Leadoff man Lee Magnusson paced the All-Stars with 2 singles and 2 walks in 5 trips to the plate. Lee also took to the mound for an inning but he was switched back to his old stamping grounds in center after 5 runs on 4 hits and 2 walks crossed the plate.

DENNY SCHUMACHER'S 5-hit pitching sent the Indians into the All-Star tilt, July 13, when the Tribe dumped the Redlegs, 7-5, in the game to decide which team would play the Stars.

Schumacher struck out 7 in the 6 innings he worked and walked only 3. Although the loser's Matt Gora struck out 12, he still was tagged for 11 hits, including 2 singles by first sacker Denny Denniston and Phil Gustafson.

Bob Curratti, Orioles' shortstop, slammed 2 singles and a homer in 3 at bats, scoring 4 runs. Gene Bauer rapped out 2 singles and a triple, tallying 3 runs, and Russ Halstead collected a triple and single.

Long blow of the contest was a triple by Leigh Moore, Redleg first baseman. Matt Gora collected 2 singles in 3 bats to gain batting honors in the tight catchers' duel.

Jamie Heads Field In Invitational Trot

Jamie's coming back . . . That's right, the big trotting star who set the Sportsman's Park track record last year and led all Illinois horses in money winnings with $43,000 last year will be in Cicero next Saturday night for the $12,000 National Invitational Trot.

Jamie distinguished himself and the middlewest by winning the $25,000 Roosevelt Trot several weeks ago. His 2:03 mile here last year is the best mile ever trotted on a Chicago half mile track.

Owned by A. D. Knapp of Springfield, Ill., formerly of Jackson, Mich., Jamie cost his owner $40,000 last year and then proceeded to earn that figure before the year was over.

However, Jamie will not have things too easy in this rich Sportsman's Park event. In fact, the field of trotters going to the post will be without any contradiction, the toughest ever assembled in Chicago.

Times Tougher?

There are 210,00 unemployed in Illinois.

Sox, Indians, Cubs Top 1st Half Of Palatine LL

Last week concluded the first half of the season' activities in the Palatine Little League. The Indians and Sox were deadlocked in the American division and the Cubs held a slim ½ game lead in the National League.

The Indians made the most of the week by trouncing the first place Sox, 13-3, and earned themselves a first place tie for the first half. The Indians were too strong for the Sox collecting 11 hits while Nelson, Indian pitcher, held the Sox to 5 hits. Schaefer, Seehausen, and Nelson slugged out 3 hits each for the Tribe. Wolf led the Sox's 5 hit attack with 2 blows.

Indians ..... 204 34—3-11
Sox ..... 000 03— 3- 5

Batteries: Indians — Nelson and Clark; Sox — Rose, Hoffman and Michaels.

THE TIGERS, who had been winless during the season, captured 2 games last week. They knocked off the Yanks, 11-2, on Tuesday night and came back on Thursday to beat the co-champ Indians, 4-1. These 2 wins should serve notice on the other teams that the Tigers will have to be reckoned with in the second half and will make the league much more evenly balanced.

Yanks ..... 020 0— 2- 1
Tigers ..... 506 *—11-10

Batteries: Yanks — Stoenking, Goldhamer and Hicks; Tigers — Smith and Foster.

Tigers ..... 201 100—4-5
Indians ..... 010 000—1-4

Batteries: Tigers — Bassett and Smith; Indians— Ball, Nelson, and Clark.

Second half of the Little League opened Monday night and the co-champion Indians and Sox continued their winning ways. The Indians dumped the Tigers, 7-1, and the Sox took the measure of the Yanks, 5-1.

In the first game Nelson of the Indians pitched a beautiful game and put the game on ice with a grand slam home run in the second inning. Each team got 3 hits, but Tiger pitchers were very charitable and gave up 10 walks. Schaefer and Quangle got a hit each for the Indians. Domek singled and Bassett hit twice for the losers.

Indians ..... 050 200—7-3
Tigers ..... 000 001—1-3

Batteries: Indians—Nelson and Clark; Tigers—Smith, Bassett and Foster.

THE SECOND game featured some sparkling play by the Sox infield in the early innings. Yanks hit the ball hard but the Sox infield held them to 1 hit and no runs. Stoneking pitched the entire game for the Yanks and allowed 6 hits. Boehin collected 3, Dave Wolf, Rose, and McAffee 1 apiece. Michael, Rose, Seidel split mound duties for the Sox and gave up only 2 hits.

Sox, Saints, Stars, Oaks Pace Minors

The 4 front-running Minor League teams as the season approaches the final 2 weeks of play are Bill Sauer's Saints, William Ashley's Sox, Paul Tossman's Stars, and Earl Hadland's Oaks.

Close races haven't been too evident in the Arlington Heights Minor League circles with the Saints' "slim" 2½ game margin over the second place Redbirds in the North Side intermediate league representing the closest margin between a first and second place team.

Only one league — the North Side intermediate — has turned in complete records thanks to Bill Sauer, John Bloshinksky, and Al Baugous, but the leaders are so far out in front in the 3 other leagues that it doesn't appear too likely they will be passed in the final 2 weeks.

TERRY ASHLEY walloped a home run in pacing the North Side Sox to a 14-5 victory over the Indians, July 16. Ashley's blow was the only long clout in the heavy offensive display. Chalking up the mound win was Roger O'Neil. The Sox rolled across 11 runs in the explosive fourth inning.

Ashley bested the Blues' Jim Link to gain a 9-2 win. The Sox collected 6 hits in the contest while the Blues were able to garner only a pair of safeties.

Recent results in the North Side intermediate league show the Saints over the Senators 11-2; Redbirds over the Colonels 9-0 by forfeit; Saints over the Colonels 12-1; and Redbirds over the Senators 13-8.

Hawthorne Plans High Caliber Racing

Major racing in Chicago will continue at Hawthorne race course when the Fall thoroughbred season opens September 6, Robert F. Carey, managing director of the track, stated in announcing 15 stakes and handicap events worth $335,000 for the 35-day session.

"Hawthorne expects to distribute approximately $1,250,000 to horsemen during our 1955 meeting," Carey said, "and we feel we have an outstanding program in keeping with the Balmoral, Arlington and Washington meetings."

Eight stakes featured on the schedule carry $255,000 in added money, while the seven top-notch handicap races are valued at $80,000.

Again topping the list of stakes is the $75,000, added Hawthorne Gold Cup, to be contested October 15.

State & Rand Nears Paddock Tourney Berth

State & Rand Service almost assured themselves a Paddock Tourney berth by subduing their nearest rival, Stewart Floor & Tile, for a clean sweep of 6 points. The win placed the gas men 7 points ahead of the field and produced 2 very interesting matches. The first individual match found Shelby Stewart Sr. going into the eighth hole 1 under par and losing the match to Len Arnold when Stewart bogied the 8th and 9th holes. Arnold played the front nine with 9 legitimate pars as he used 18 putts. The second interesting incident found J. Matyas as stubborn as Ben Hogan, for he was 2 over par until he reached the fateful par 3, 8th hole where after knocking 3 out of bounds he succumbed to an 11 for the hole. Matyas came back to win his match for the pump jockeys by a 1-up margin.

While State & Rand were shoving Stewart's Floor & Tile team back from 2nd position to 5th position, the L'Nor Cleaner team of Dan Musser, Stan Fill and Fred Steinken were giving the Smith & Dawson team the cleaning fluid treatment. The biggest factor in the L'Nor Cleaners rapid rise is that Dan Musser for the last 5 nights scoring is only 1 over par. The Smith & Dawson team had only one team to bolster their morale for Carl Berlin hit a fine drive and then stroked a finer brassie shot to within 10 feet of the pin on the 480 year 14th hole. Carl then dropped a tricky down and side hill putt for an eagle 3.

DICK BURKETT, J. Rowader, H. Kamps and Til Foy were out brushing together 5 points for the Weber Paint team to slip into 3rd place over Smith & Dawson by ½ point. Dick Burkett and Harv Sheppard accounted for 4 birdies in their match and ended in a dead heat halve when Sheppard birdied the 9th hole.

It was a fair night for shut-outs for Kamps Sign Co. produced the second when Avery Harris edged B. Blessing and his team mate Bert Casteel putted a win over J. Keeley. The second half of the sign painters found M. Kamps winning over Harry Bengel & B. Lee beating F. Townley. The wins produced 6 points for the sign makers and upped their team standing from 5th to 3rd.

Paddock Golf Trophies On Display At Roselle

The trophy, 12 medals and a dozen golf balls, all to be awarded Sunday, August 21, in Paddock Publications inter-League Handicap golf tournament, went on display this week at Bill's Barber shop in Roselle.

The display will move from week to week, giving golfers of the various towns a chance to see the trophy and medals. First place teams of 9 local twilight leagues as of August 6 will be eligible to compete.

A COUPLE of leagues have odds-on favorites to capture tourney berths, while others still have 7-10 teams still rating a chance to make the big meet.

The eligibility date is just 2 weeks off. In event of ties league officers will decide which foursome represents their leagues. Greens fees of $10 per team are due with official entry made with tournament manager at Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, by Saturday, August 13, though tourney promoters hope many entries will be in their hands no later than Tuesday, August 9, for better promotion purposes.

Prospect country club; St. James and Rob Roy at Rob Roy country club; Scratch at Old Orchard country club; Arlington CC league at Arlington country club; Roselle league at Roselle country club; and Bensenville VF W league at Mohawk country club.

Bill's Barber Shop, Rendezvous Tied For Roselle Honors

Each week draws the Roselle Golf league closer and closer. Last week the competition pulled Rendezvous into a first place tie with Bill's Barber Shop and Norm's Grocery and Matthies Tavern are holding up third and fourth only 1 point off the pace. Now that Bill's Barber Shop is displaying the trophy and balls of the Paddock Tourney, they might want to keep them for a little while. But Rendezvous, Norm's Grocery and the Tavern will have something to say about that. This league is rivaling the St. James loop for excitement with every match a crucial one.

Braves Trounce Merchants, 8-1, In Pony League

The rampaging Mt. Prospect Braves, who have started the second round off as the Mt. Prospect Sox did in the first round, won another Northwest Suburban Pony League game Saturday afternoon by trouncing the Wheeling Merchants, 8-1.

Hitting honors of the day went to Alan Kause with 3 for 3 and Haenggi and Virgil also of the Braves with 2 hits apiece. In the fifth inning Bob O'Neil, Brave third baseman, sent a long line drive to right which looked like an extra base hit until Ted Bartman left the ground to snag it. Bartman injured his knee making the play.

Fred Hohenhorst defeated Jim Zamrazil 1-up in first round play for the Inverness Cup. Hohenhorst played in the "B" class the week before in the match play against par and fired a 79.

Palatine Legion Ends Campaign

Three straight singles, a hit-batsman, and a walk pushed across 2 runs and gave Palatine's Junior Legion baseball team, Post No. 690, an 8 inning, 2-1 victory over Park Ridge B in the final ninth district game for both teams. Palatine ended the league campaign with a 3-7 mark while Park Ridge B failed to win a game.

Bob Hamilton twirled the full 8 innings for Palatine with Don Teegan, who will be a junior transfer student from New Trier to Palatine this fall, working behind the plate. Shortstop Rich Wisner collected 3 hits to pace the victors' attack.

Saturday Palatine lost their seventh league game at Franklin Park, 9-5. The winners got all their runs in the first 3 innings with a 6 run blast in the third being the big frame. Hamilton shut out Franklin the last 4 innings but the damage was done. Teegan got 2 hits for Palatine and did the catching.

3 Teams Still In Running For Rob Roy Golf Title

Webber Paint Co., led by Len Arnold's par 36 on the back nine, beat L-Nor Cleaners, 6-1, in the Roy Roy Tuesday league. The Painters have only 2 more nights to defend their 5½ point lead and then they will be Paddock Tourney bound. Their opponents for these 2 nights of play will be Ehler and Wenborg Realty and Prospect Hts. Service Station.

Ehler and Wenborg stopped the fast moving Wulbecker Furniture team, 4-3, despite Bob Barrett's 39 for the losers. Prospect Hts. Service Station was victim of a 5½-1½ trouncing by Dunteman Dairy. The Dairy team is enjoying the return of Harv Laufmann the past couple of weeks and has won fairly consistently since his return. Harv turned in a 39 and coupled with Steve Rowader's net 32 was enough to bring 5½ points.

Wheeling Bowl still in pursuit of the Painters, gave Park Ridge Stop and Sock a 6-1 licking. Marsh Balling is piloting the Bowlers quite well this year and as a result they have been breathing down the necks of the leaders all season long. The Bowlers are only 5½ points off the pace and with 14 points at stake in the next 2 weeks, they still have enough room to climb into first place.

HARTMAN HOUSE, the third team with a chance to gain first place before Paddock time, knocked Prospect Hts. Variety store out of the picture, 5-2. Ray Meyer fired a 39 to pace the winners and this kept the Hartman hopes alive. John Bozik was the only prey of the Variety Store when he ran into a 38 fired by Jim Franks.

Busse Buick Moves Into 1st Place Tie With Variety Store

Busse Buick, the second place team, really took advantage of its match with the leader, Prospect Heights Variety Store, this week by taking 6 points from them and now they are tied up in the Roy Roy Ladies' Golf. The Variety Store has enjoyed first place for many weeks, but now they will really have to work to keep ahead of Busse Buick. Michaels IGA cut down Kirchhoff Insurance to their size, 5-2. The IGA boys had a good cushion in Wayne Rolfs' 38 and Adam Servins' 39.

Giants Clinch Championship In Central League Race

by BOB FRISK

The Giants can breathe a little easier from now on in Central League action of the Arlington Heights Little League. Manager Evans Wells' rampaging squad has clinched the division title and will rest with their laurels until the past-season playoffs.

This isn't as easy to say about the other 2 leagues. From the way it looks now, it'll be down to the wire in both the American and National loops with the Red Sox, Yankees, Cubs, and Cards bidding for honors. At this writing the Red Sox paced the A. L. by 1½ games while the Cubs were 1 game up in the National League.

Dave Smith is the boy responsible for putting the Giants into the playoffs. The little moundsman hurled a 3-hitter in setting down the Pirates, 5-3, July 15. Tom Bergstrom carried the offensive attack as he's done so many times this season with 2 hits, a homer and triple, and he scored a pair of runs.

Warren Walter punched out 3 straight hits and Lee Garr collected 2 for 2 to aid in the Giants' attack.

THE SENATORS piled on Tiger pitchers for 12 hits and 19 runs in the rout of July 16. Putting across 12 runs in the third frame, the Senators coasted to their seventh league victory. Jerry Lind captured the mound triumph.

Offensive laurels for the contest were shared by 5 boys. The victors' Ray Raines blasted a triple and a homer and drove in 9 runs for his evening's work. Two other Senators turned in impressive performances: Fred Lauterburg and Glenn Pasvogel both turned in 2 for 3 jobs and Fred tallied 3 markers. Miller and Cordaro paced the game's offense with 3 hits each, the latter scoring a trio of runs.

FRESH FROM their first victory in 2 seasons of Arlington Little League action, the cellar-dwelling Athletics bowed to the White Sox, July 12, 3-1.

Although Pat Solon, one of the top performers in the local Little League, took adequate care of the A's offensive attack with 3 hits, Gene Helfogt handcuffed the rest of the losers to gain the victory. Holfogt allowed 6 hits in 6 innings.

Last year in the National League the saying went: "As Gerken goes, so go the Cardinals." This season the label has been tagged on to the Red Sox's valuable little pitcher Dave Brodnan. The Sox' pennant hopes hinge on the right arm of the youngster and his heavy bat. In 2 recent contests, indicative of the way he's been going all season, Brodnan struck out 25 batters and slammed out 6 hits, including a triple and homer.

The Red Sox edged the White Sox, 9-8, July 15 with Dave fanning 11 and collecting 3 hits at the plate. Brodnan drilled a homer while Holfogt added a 2-bagger.

BRODNAN AND Rich Wallhoff, the only winning pitcher for the A's this season, hooked up in a strikeout duel, July 14, with the Athletics countering 3 times in the sixth inning to tie the game, 6-6.

Strikeout totals showed Brodnan with 14 and Wallhoff with 13. Dave walked only 2 while Rich issued 3 free passes.

Homeruns in the contest were slapped out by the Sox' Cliff Scholl and Athletics' Fred Froyd. Froyd had 3 straight hits for 8 total bases and Bob Finch also had a perfect day with 3 singles.

AS THE CARDS started to breathe down the necks of the Cubs, the counterparts of the Chicago nine began an all-out drive for the division title, taking 3 games last week to move out in front by 1 full game.

Bob Inman, Frank Harris, and Tom Klement captured the pitching victories for Charles Klement's Cubs with younger Klement tossing the gem, a 1-hit masterpiece against Bill Heitz's Braves.

Klement's 1-hitter, July 12, blanked the Braves, 8-0. Tom struck out 12 in besting husky Don Snell for the decision. It was strictly a Klement victory as Tom also collected 2 hits, including a double, and scored 1 run.

SCORING IN every inning and adding 13 in 2 frames, the Cubs walloped the Dodgers, 20-4, July 14 behind the pitching and hitting of Bob Inman. Bob hurled 6-hit ball and at bat, drove out 4 straight hits. Ken Dougan was charged with the loss.

Inman's strong relief hurling checked a Braves uprising, July 16, and gave the Cubs a tight 5-3 victory. Bob relieved starter Frank Harris in the fourth and struck out 3, allowing only 1 hit in 2 innings.

Harris, the Cubs' starter, struck out 7 in 3 innings and walked only 1. Ken Mueller absorbed the loss for Russ Walters' Dodgers.

The final report from the Little League this week is concerned with Ben Fleury's defending National League champion Cardinals. The Cards whitewashed the Braves, July 15, behind the chucking of Tommy Benson. Tommy also helped out offensively with 2 for 3, including 2 doubles.

Oak Brook Polo Club Whips Dallas

Sparkling hard-hitting playing by Bobby Schless, of Downers Grove, for the Oak Brook Shamrock polo team Sunday afternoon led the foursome to a 7-5 victory over Circle F of Dallas, Tex.

Playing the number three position, 3-goaler Schless split the uprights four times, twice on penalty shots from 40 and 60 yards. The young Downers Grove player struck pay-dirt twice in the second chukker, again in the third and once more in the sixth frame.

Leo Hulseman scored twice for the Shamrocks and Hugo Delmar clipped the sphere between the posts for a counter in the final thirty seconds of the second chukker.

Polo is played every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, weather permitting, at the international field, Oak Brook polo club, York and 22nd st., north of Hinsdale.

The Braves major role in the National League of the Arlington Little League is that of the spoiler. Seven games off the pace and mathematically "out" of the title chase, the Braves can cause lot of trouble for the contending teams in the final two weeks of the season.

Tickets On Sale For Bear Game August 10

Tickets for the Chicago Bears football game on Maine field Wednesday night, August 10, have been placed on sale by the Des Plaines Elks club, sponsors of the event, and are now available at stores in this area as well as at the club building at 495 Lee street in Des Plaines.

Ticket sales for the big game, expected to establish an attendance record for a sports event in the northwest suburbs, are in charge of Arthur D. Laurance, club manager and aide to general chairman Standley Redmer.

Laurance reports that the early sales for the summertime gridiron classic, where Bear fans can get a preview of the Chicago entry in national professional football league, have been brisk and indicative of the wide interest aroused over bringing this one intra-squad game to this area.

The scale of prices for the tickets range from $1.10 to $2.50, with a limited number of on-the-field seats being reserved by the Elks at $3.

Tickets will be sold in Arlington at Cor-Del's Restaurant, Hilltop Apothecary Shop, Bowen Hardware, Kindler's Ice Cream Shop, Jim's Service Station, Arlington Liquor Mart, and Parkway Liquors; in Wheeling at Wheeling Bowling Lanes, and in Mt. Prospect at Kruse's Tavern.

Asserts Clean Farm Ponds Are Answer For Fishermen

We had a telephone call from a would-be fisherman recently wanting to know where he could go to find good fishing in Illinois. In the course of the conversation we learned he had been a member of the Urbana sportsmen's club but dropped out because he couldn't catch any fish in their lake and then they had drained the lake to enlarge it.

Now he figures on a trip hundreds of miles south to Crab Orchard Lake for a weekend of fishing.

This fisherman is typical of too many others. He is not willing to help build good fishing water but wants the other fellow to spend his money, his labor and his energy to provide him with fishing.

HE IS ALSO typical of the ill-informed fisherman who objects to reducing the population of fish in a pond. His attitude is that more fish should be dumped in because he couldn't catch any so the pond must be fished out. He wasn't around when literally thousands of stunted fish were taken out of the Urbana pond, overcrowded, starved, undersized fish of many species that nobody could catch.

Now this fisherman will spend at least $50 on a weekend trip to Crab Orchard and in this hot weather we confidently predict he won't catch any fish there either.

Cubs, Braves Triumph In Rolling Meadows

Rolling Meadows' Little League Cubs and Braves rolled over their opponents last week as the newly-organized division continued its heavy-hitting display.

The Braves took honors for the week with 38 runs and 27 hits in the pair of contests. Not far behind, however, was the Cubs' offensive attack which produced 24 runs and 17 hits.

Tallying 8 runs in the first, 11 in the second, and a "mere" 6 in the third, the Braves piled up a 25-0 lead before the Sox bounced with 7 runs of their own. What happened in the fourth has yet to be explained. The Braves were blanked, but they came right back in the final frame with 5 runs and a 30-7 victory.

WERTHEIMER was the big hitter with a homer and 2 doubles. McDonald blasted out 2 triples. The former was also credited with the pitching victory.

W. McFaggen hurled the Braves to a 8-5 win over the Cardinals, July 12, allowing only 2 hits in the 6 innings he worked. The Braves tagged the loser's Hinricks for 10 hits.

The Cubs' 2 wins were products of hurlers Kolb and Kunz. Kolb was the victor in the 18-6 rout of the Cardinals while Kunz set the Sox down, 6-5, July 11, on 6 hits.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The healing power of true prayer will be set forth at Christian Science services on Sunday, July 24, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth."

Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit" including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting" (Mark 9:29).

The practical power of prayer is also brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (11:27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

No "Hush" about Prices, But—

In good taste, we do not publicize prices for our services. There is nothing "hush" about them, however. All our prices are clearly indicated in advance to the families we serve — and the choice is broad enough to be within the range of every income. In fact, for those unfortunate enough to need financial help, we consider it our duty to serve without cost. This, too, is a reflection of our ethical attitude toward the profession we serve.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The healing power of true prayer will be set forth at Christian Science services on Sunday, July 24, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth."

Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit" including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting" (Mark 9:29).

The practical power of prayer is also brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (11:27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

It's oven lighting time in the Greens this week. Mixing bowls ... beaters are being put to work to turn out pastries for the bake sale this Saturday at Svoboda Sons store to benefit the Northwest Community hospital fund. Anyone who wasn't at home when the "calling committee" phoned and wishes to contribute toward the sale may bring cake, pie, cookies, or rolls to the above mentioned store at 12 S. Dunton, which is across from the Jewel store, as soon after 9 a.m. as possible Saturday. The sale starts at 9:30 and ends at 1 p.m. or until all pastries have been sold. Judging from the "chit-chat" being exchanged in town this sale has been put on the "important - don't miss it" list and everyone is eager to sample the baking efforts of the cooks of Arlington Greens. Baked goods should be placed on paper plates rather than fancy cake plates inasmuch as the plates cannot be returned. By the way, after you have delivered your delicacy don't forget to look around and buy something that appeals to you and your family. Personally, your reporter will be on the lookout for a coconut cream pie!

Vacations

Seventeen days and 2500 miles later, the Bartletts, David, Marjorie, and children, David and Paul, are back at 1217 Hickory. Their vacation trip combined both pleasure and business. Their first stop at the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md. was in the nature of business for David who is a doctor of veterinary medicine. The family also stopped off at the University of Maryland at College Park Maryland and then down the Chesapeake Bay to Scientist's Cliff where they took a cabin for a week and enjoyed themselves on the beach. David, 8, and Paul, 3½, had the time of their young lives searching for fossils and sharks' teeth along the beach. From there the trip swung back to business when the doctor gave a speech at the Maryland State Veterinary Medical association meeting and also presented a paper at Michigan State university.

The land of the sky blue water beckoned Terry and John Lynch and their 2 sons, Stephen and Michael. Terry's folks, Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Healy, live in Minneapolis so naturally that was their first stop. After spending a week with the boys' grandparents the family went on to Round Lake, Minn. for the second week of their vacation.

Lillian and Larry Harrington also spent their 2 week vacation in Minnesota at Larry's home town of Virginia. Taking the motor trip with them were their 2 children, Marjorie and John. Their vacation comprised visiting with relatives and renewing old friendships. Larry's brother, James, made the return trip home with them and plans to do his vacationing in the Greens.

Lost and Found

For approximately 3 weeks a little maroon tricycle has been inactive for want of an owner to ride it. Somewhere in the Greens is a little boy or girl who has lost a tricycle. It was first located on Olive st. and is now on Hickory. If you know of anyone who is missing a tricycle please get in touch with either Shirley Kerz at Clearbrook 3-8030, or Gert Miller at Clearbrook 3-8031.

Just a word of caution to those who ride their bike to the park pool — be sure to lock the bike before going swimming.

Kenneth Sterner had an unfortunate experience with his brand new bike, an English Racer. Kenny left it unlocked while he went swimming and when it was time to go home he discovered that the bike had been stolen. The theft was reported to the police and fortunately they found the bike several days later. The culprit who had made off with it evidently tired of his new possession and abandoned it in a mudhole.

Visitors

Les and Irene Tackes recently had out-of-town company from West Bend, Wis. Les' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Faber, and baby daughter, Elizabeth Ann, spent a short but fun-filled 4 days in the Greens.

David and Marjorie Bartlett opened their home to David's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Bartlett Jr. who were here from Philadelphia. After a 4-day visit they went on to Canada and then back home to Philadelphia.

This 'n That

Anyone planning to go hiking better not include Oscar Josetti in the list of hikers, reason being that Oscar marched for 4 hours July 12, and another 4 hours last Thursday evening in the Shriners' parade on Michigan ave. Oscar has been affiliated with the Medinah Temple for approximately 6 years and is one of the 6 men in the color guard which leads all the parades. Being in the foreground proved advantageous when the newspaper photographers started flashing their bulbs. Oscar made the Chicago Tribune and also appeared on television. Oscar's wife, Ann, was able to view the parades and join in the festivities because her husband's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Josetti of Chicago, were visiting in the Greens and baby sat with the children.

Farewell and Goodbye

Sorry to hear that one of our prominent couples, Janice and Bob Swanson, will soon be moving from the Greens. A change in employment for Bob requires their moving to Indianapolis where Bob will be associated with Herman C. Wolff, Insurance Agents. Bob was the first president of the Arlington Greens Community association and helped to lay the foundation, so to speak, during that first year.

Wedgewood Terrace

The Frank Wemheuers are the newest family in Wedgewood Terrace and moved into the new home at 401 Meadow lane on July 6 after a very quick decision made to purchase it. They had lived in Glencoe for about 2½ years. One of the things they expect to like better here is having more sunlight since there are not the big trees. They hope to be able to grow a garden.

Mr. Wemheuer is director of operations of the Grey Van Lines.

The Wemheuer's have 2 children, Carey and Robert. Carey was just 4 years last Friday so celebrated in the new home. Robert will be 12 in October. He wil enter the seventh grade in the junior high at Arlington Heights in the fall. Robert is an enthusiastic scout and has already attained his first class rating.

University of Illinois was Mrs. Wemheuer's college alma mater and Mr. Wemheuer attended Loyola university.

Golf is a sport that Mr. Wemheuer enjoys playing.

Many of her dad's relatives and some of her mother's were among the 28 people who celebrated Lynn Marchetti's eighth birthday last Saturday. Quite in accord with Wedgewood Terrace summer party habits it was an outdoor picnic, with the kids going swimming in a home pool.

Favorites For Flavor

A homemaker who effectively combines domestic and extra-curricular activities is Mrs. Eugene Oldham of Prospect Heights.

Participation in civic organizations has not prevented Mrs. Oldham from spending time in her kitchen, for she has achieved a reputation as a good cook as well as a conscientious community worker.

One of Mrs. Oldham's favorite recipes is for Sour Cream Veal, a savory casserole dish. Mrs. Oldham received this recipe from her mother, an it is one that she uses a great deal.

This dish is prepared by browning cubed veal steak and minced onion in butter, then simmering it in chicken stock. Sour cream and mushrooms are added and the mixture is combined with cooked noodles and placed in a casserole.

The casserole can be made in advance and popped into the oven a half hour before serving. Or it can be frozen with excellent results.

This unusual and flavorful veal dish makes delicious luncheon fare. Mrs. Oldham usually accompanies it with hot rolls, a green salad and dessert. She has even taken it along on picnics, wrapping the casserole in newspapers, an effective insulator.

The Oldhams live at 107 E. Olive in Prospect Heights. They have 2 children, Jim, 12, and Doris Jean, 10.

Mrs. Oldham is a member of the Arlington Heights Womans club, the Prospect Heights Book Review club and the PTA.

She teaches a nursery Sunday school class at the Prospect Heights Community church, was active in brownie work and is a member of the girl scout nominating committee.

Sour Cream Veal

1 pound veal steak, cubed
1 small onion, minced
1 cup chicken stock
½ pint commercial sour cream
1 box fresh mushrooms sauteed in butter or 1 large can sliced mushrooms
1 small package medium noodles

While the veal is simmering, cook the noodles.

Mix all of the ingredients together and place in buttered casserole. Top with buttered bread crumbs or crushed potato chips.

Bake for 30 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Pastor's Son Marries Maryland Girl July 1

The chapel of the University of Maryland at College Park, Md., was decorated with palms and gladioli July 1 for the wedding of Carol Jean Peterson and Walter Luther Fechner. Miss Audrey Ricketts at the organ played Johann Sebastian Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desire." The Rev. Edward Birner of Greenbelt, Md., gave the address, and the groom's father, the Rev. W. G. Fechner, pastor of St. John Evangelical Lutheran church, West Northfield, Cook County, Ill., officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess gown with white lace on the bodice, short sleeves and flared skirt circled with tulle and tapering into a chapel-length train. THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

One of the things that time and the association with other people teaches us is that we should keep our plans to ourselves. Too often, in the course of life, our direction is changed by changing circumstances, and things that we ardently hope for become undesirable or unattainable.

Perhaps it is a trip that we plan, that we are sure we shall make; or a raise in pay; or plans to buy or build a home; or a new job we are going to get. We tell others about it, and they assume that we will accomplish these things. When, for some reason, our plans fall short of accomplishment, people want to know why, and we are often in for a deal of explaining and making alibis.

BEING TOO TALKATIVE about family affairs often reflects on ourselves. Occasionally you hear a man or woman telling about the faults of his partner, or the misdeeds of his children, things that would remain better unsaid. There are far too many people in this world who are looking for a chance to learn family or personal affairs or mistakes so they can go away and spread the good news.

The world is full of things to talk about, things much more important than ourselves, so why waste time and get into difficulties discussing our virtues, faults, or plans with other people? If it is a common problem that a group of friends or relatives are involved in, then it is a different thing, and you may offer your ideas for a solution without too much fear of criticism. But as much as possible, avoid discussing your personal plans and problems with other people, or making an open book of your life. It will often bring hardship and embarrassment.

WHERE IMPORTANT advice is needed it is better to go to books, or to paid advisors than to discuss such things with your friends. The man or woman who makes an open book of his life to any other person, even the mailman, is putting himself in that person's power from then on.

Penal Reform, Prisoner Aid Aim of Howard Association

by CHARLES HAYES

What happens to a successful business executive who keeps his prison record secret?

It has been 25 years since this man had served his 2-year prison sentence. He was the second officer of a large national organization. No one knew the secret of his background.

Adjusted to society, a worthwhile and responsible citizen, this man had lived an exemplary life for 25 years.

But when his company decided to have its employees finger-printed, the executive's past was uncovered.

And so was the prison past of 17 other employees who also had hidden prison records.

All 18 were summarily fired.

But through the efforts of a private agency whose job for 53 years has been aid to prisoners, all 18 jobs were saved.

THIS IS TYPICAL of the work performed by the John Howard association, founded in 1901 by a Lutheran pastor in Wisconsin and named in honor of the famous 18th century British prison reformer.

With offices at 608 S. Dearborn st., the John Howard association devotes its efforts to prisoner aid and prison reform.

Eugene S. Zemans, executive director, cites 2 functions of the group:

1—case work and individual counseling, and

2—prison reform.

* * *

"OUR SERVICE is focused chiefly on the man in prison or just out of prison," explained Zemans. "Three staff members perform this 'short contact therepy' on 800 clients a year. They take the client and help him face his problem and work it through so that he is self-sufficient and law-abiding."

The association does not hire lawyers or try to influence parole boards.

"But we do help men to get a job, because this is very essential in rehabilitation," added Zemans.

In the area of prison reform, the John Howard association makes private studies and investigations on penal conditions.

MANY PENAL gains have been made by appealing to the pride of wardens, said Zemans.

At the request of the Chicago City club in 1947-48, the association made an inspection of police lock-ups in Chicago district stations.

Conditions of intolerable stench, neglect, and filth were exposed from the association's factual investigation.

Radio, newspapers, and Police Commissioner Prendergast assisted in the clean-up.

RECENTLY the John Howard association made a re-survey and found 3 of the lock-ups removed. A fourth, the infamous Des Plaines st. station, which Zemans termed "worse than the Black Hole of Calcutta," is now the new and modern Monroe st. station.

The association is a member of the Community fund and has a board of directors of 24 prominent citizens who supervise its non-partisan, non-denominational work.

Zemans, 47, has been executive director since 1940. He has membership in 6 professional organizations, serves on the executive committee of 3 others, acts as secretary-treasurer for the National Prisoners' Aid association, and is a frequent contributor of articles to professional journals.

When he assumed the directorship 14 years age, Zeman had a staff of 2 full-time and 1 part-time employees. The budget was $7,500 a year.

TODAY THERE are 5 full-time employees and the annual budget is $30,000.

Nearly 700,000 persons pass in and out of 3,000 prison gates as prisoners or free men each year. The annual cost of administering these institutions is over $300 million.

Zemans points out that $30,000 a year for rehabilitation is little compared to $300 million a year for punishment.

The fight for funds is his major battle. "We can't do nearly the job we should—and could," cries Zemans.

THE JOHN HOWARD association is not ordinarily a crusading organization.

But a few years ago they set out after Sheriff Elmer M. Walsh and his county jail commissary, where an annual profit of $40,000 was being made.

Walsh was the association's target because 'the system he allowed to perpetuate was wrong."

The campaign was successful.

Other projects of the association include a study of prison babies, a study of the amount of money a discharged prisoner receives upon release, direction of a discharge school at 2 prisons, and periodic investigation into the cause of recent prison riots.

THE SURVEY of babies born of prison-mothers was made at the request of a national press service.

John Howard researchers found that every day of the year a prison inmate has a baby.

Usually, the child is born outside the reformatory in a nearby hospital and then placed in a foster home or with the girl's family. The state department of welfare supervises this placement

In the event of a prison birth, the baby is protected by placing the name of the prison hospital on the certificate rather than the name of the institution. Thus, a child born inside the Dwight reformatory for women has its birthplace listed as the Florence Nightingale hospital, Dwight, Ill.

ILLEGITIMACY is not reported.

A study of how much money a discharged prisoner receives from the state revealed that some states give nothing and other as much as $50 to a man upon his release from the institution.

Illinois now gives $25 as a result of pressure from the John Howard association, which was supported by Chicago newspapers.

Discharge schools for prisoners soon to return to civilian life are conducted by the association at Pontiac and Stateville.

WE EXPLAIN to the man that the outside world is different, and that soon they will be making decisions and choices. This is a radical departure from the regimented living of prison, where gastic juices flow when a bell rings and there is an established routine for taking a bath or toilet, changing bed linens, etc."

Many ex-convists come into the association and talk to case workers.

"Crime pays everybody but the fellow in prison and the victim," said Zemans. "Crime pays policemen, state's attorneys, judges, wardens and their staffs, parole boards. The prisoners pays a terrible price because he can never get over being an ex-con."

Inefficient personnel hampers prison administration. The low pay received by guards attracts too many incompetent men. Lacking training and insight, their only aim is to maintain discipline, suppress riots, and prevent public scandal. Under these conditions there is little opportunity for prison officials to prepare for adjustment to a normal life when prisoners are released.

THE JOHN HOWARD association maintains that there are 2 primary purposes for imprisoning criminals—protecting society, and preparing the lawbreaker to re-enter the social order as a useful citizen.

In offering aid to the prisoner and in acting as a watchdog over prison conditions, the John Howard association is doing double duty—helping in the rehabilitation of the individual prisoner so that he may make a positive contribution to community life.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Mayor Replies

The Fence Post of last week had an article signed by Edward Carlisle, with some misleading statements about Arlington Heights. To set the record straight the following comments and statements are made:

. The statement that he made in the first paragraph, "the manager's appropriation budget for the fiscal year, if adopted, would have meant a reduction in taxes per taxpayer," is not a statement of fact. The tax rate is based only on the tax levy ordinance. And the tax levy ordinance has not been prepared yet for consideration.

2. Mention was made about the approval of a budget which was $133,000 more than that recommended by the manager. $95,000 of that was for "off-street-parking area" which will be paid from parking meter revenue only. That item has no bearing whatsoever on the tax rate of the village.

3. LAST YEAR money was transferred from the water fund without having it in the water fund budget. If it was an "infamous act" as stated by Mr. Carlisle, I would say it was not proper to transfer funds without having it in the budget because it would appear an effort was being made to fool the taxpayer.

I thank Mr. Carlisle for his interest in village affairs, as well as for mentioning that the mayor voted for passing the appropriation budget. I would like to remind the voters that he was one of the board members who passed the ordinance for village manager (a man who would be available 24-hours of the day) which is full time. I just wonder where he got the extra 100 hours reported spent on the budget?

Boys State

I wish to thank Merle Guild post 208 of the American Legion for enabling me to attend Illinois Premier Boys State. I know that a considerable amount of work was done to make my attendance possible.

The program enabled me, as well as the other citizens, to learn more about government on the city, county, and state levels. Also, I gained added respect for the American system of government. Besides being educational, my participation in the program was a very enjoyable experience in meeting and living with boys from the various parts of the State of Illinois.

Merle Guild post 208 of the American Legion has provided youth with a fine opportunity to develop an interest in and learn more about government and to prepare to assume the responsibilities of citizenship. I know that this program will be even more successful in the future than it has been in the past. Again, I appreciate this opportunity.

Young Driver

I recently turned 16 and I am eligible to get an operator's license from the state for driving. But, if what happened this evening is any example of a licensed "good" driver, an adult driver, I am not sure I want to be a member of the society of drivers!

I was riding my bicycle — I have no license so I can't drive yet — coming home after going on an errand for my mother and I was going to turn left. I put my left arm straight out and prepared to turn and as I was turning a lot of honking came from the rear. It seemed that some adult motorist had not seen my signal — at least that would have been his story had I been hit. Lucky for me I swerved when I did or I would have been involved in an accident!

I WAS TAUGHT by one or two of the excellent local policemen that when you turn a corner on a bicycle or in a car, if you signal, the traffic behind you will heed your signal and you will be safe. This isn't the first time I have nearly been run down by a good driver.

My reasons for writing this letter are simple; although there are many motorists who observe and respect the signals of children and teenagers on bicycles, there are too many who don't. Perhaps by calling attention to these we can prevent unnecessary accidents.

Elm Disease

I received some advice from state natural history survey division regarding elm tree disease and thought your readers might be interested. I carefully sent in specimens of our trees we thought were infected, sending them to section of economic entomology, 163 natural resources building, Urbana, Illinois. Part of the letter:

"The elm twig, the peach twigs, and the red mulberry twigs were all infested with a Lecanium scale insect. Shade trees are seldom seriously damaged by this scale insect, but sometimes fruit trees are injured especially where sprays have been used that may kill off some of the natural enemies. The eggs of this scale are hatching right now and within the next week or 10 days most of them will move away from the mother shell to find a new place to settle and begin feeding.

"At that time you can do a very good control job by spraying the trees with malathion as directed in the enclosed leaflet. If the infestation persists and appears to be killing off small branches and twigs, you should consider applying a dormant oil spray next winter."

JUST from Patty McArdle AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Peg:

We have decided to give up living in an oven like baked potatoes and have, at long last, invested in a big, beautiful, 20" window fan. The decision was made (although we stuck it out for four summers) a few days ago, when the temperature boiled up to the high 90's and stayed. The first day the temperature soared, we talked about getting a fan (just as we had done every summer). On the second day of the heat, I called Bob's office and said,, I just thought you might decide to buy a fan before you come home tonight and I wanted you to know that we just bought one."

"That's exactly what I was going to do. What kind did you get?"

"I bought a 20" window fan that's guaranteed to move thousands of inches of air every few minutes!'

"Good! Now don't try to carry it upstairs by yourself — I'll be home early and take it up when I get there."

AT EXACTLY 5:30 that evening, we threw the switch that started a cooling stream of fresh air flowing through our apartment. Ah, what bliss! . . . what ecstasy! . . . but how short-lived! Running true to human nature, we were happily contented for no more than 10 minutes before we thought we could get more air if we changed the position of the fan.

Completely disregarding the explicit and lengthy instructions the salesman gave me regarding the most advantageous place to put the fan, we took it out of the kitchen and into the bedroom. For a few brief moments, we were sure we had created a greater stir in the apartment, but wait, where was that grand breeze that fairly rushed down our long, winding hallway?

"As long as we're going to be in the living room most of the time," I said, "how about trying it in there?"

"It'll be a little noisy don't you think?"

"Oh well, let's try it anyway?" I persisted.

SO, ONCE MORE Bob and I carried the heavy fan to another window. In this position it provided a dandy cross-breeze, but did nothing for the bedrooms or the back of the house.

"Let's leave it here awhile," Bob suggested when he noticed the skeptical expression on my face.

"All right," I said and started straightening the room. Our friends, John and Ginny, were due to arrive any minute. My straightening took me over toward the fan where the little switch labeled "in" and "out" caught my eye. I couldn't resist flipping it to "in" and in rushed a tremendous gust of wind.

"YOU'RE JUST DEFEATING the purpose of the whole thing — why don't you leave it alone?" The tone indicated slight irritation.

"O. K.," and I flipped it back to "out." With a roar the blades started spinning in the opposite direction.

By the time John and Ginny arrived we were accustomed to the noise, but they weren't.

"My gosh," Ginny seemed to be shouting, "we can't play bridge over the noise!" I hurried over to turn the speed down and at the same time asked John if he thought we'd put the fan in the right place. John is an engineer for a company that manufactures air conditioners and thermostats.

"WELL, TO TELL you the truth, I'd put it in the kitchen. Then, if you want to cool the living room, shut all the windows except those in the living room — the fan'll be forced to draw the air from there. If you want to cool off the bedrooms shut your living room off. If you want mild circulation in all rooms leave them all open." (The same instructions given me earlier in the day by the fan salesman.)

I'm happy to report that our apartment is very comfortable and our fan has, at last, found a place to call its own — the west window in the kitchen.

My love,
Patty.

The Summer Sob Story: Flies Don't Die Quite Fast Enough

by JOHN H. BICKETT
Assistant Farm Adviser

Common house flies not only enter the house but also congregate in barns, animal pens, garbage dumps and similar areas. In short, they are found from the sugar bowl to the hog pen and all places in between. They are the most abundant fly in Illinois.

As a health menace, an annoyance, and an indication of filth, they have no equal in the insect world.

WHEN A FLY lights on food, saliva is exuded through its proboscis, dissolving the food so that the fly can sponge it up. This saliva and also the legs and body of the fly, may be laden with the organisms of numerous diseases, both animal and human. Small wonder that the house fly is considered a menace to public health!

Other than as carriers of disease and filth, house flies are mainly an annoyance. Although when abundant they may affect weight gains of animals, they are not so bad in this respect as many other flies and livestock pests.

LIKE ALL INSECTS, house flies have a definite life cycle. A house fly never changes into a blow fly, a horn fly or a horse fly; nor do any of these other flies change into a house fly. Once a fly acquires wings, it does not grow or change form.

House flies lay their eggs on moist, decaying organic material. Very soon tiny maggots hatch from eggs. They become full grown in 5 to 14 days and then crawl to a drier area where they change into the pupal stage with a reddish-brown case about like a kernel of wheat. After several days the maggot becomes a fly.

IF ALL DESCENDANTS of a pair of house flies lived, in five months the United States would be covered 4½ feet deep with flies. Fortunately the survival is a fraction of a percent, and it can be further reduced with proper control measures.

Moist decaying organic material such as rotting straw and manure are necessary for house flies to lay eggs and for maggots to lead a peaceful existence. All accumulations of manure, rotting straw and other decaying organic material should be cleaned up twice a week. Without good sanitation you cannot satisfactorily control house flies. On the other hand, sanitation alone will not do the job. Insecticides are a necessary part of fly control.

AN INSECTICIDE that may be used to kill flies in Malathion. When using insecticides it is best to follow the instructions printed on the container. To kill adult flies before they lay ther eggs around garbage cans, spray the outside of the cans every 2 or 3 weeks with malathion. A mixture that may be used for this is ½ pint of 57 per cent malathion emulsion concentrate and 1 to 2 cups of sugar in 3 gallons of water.

When using insecticides:

1. Never directly spray livestock feed.
2. Avoid contaminating water supplies.
3. Be careful not to spill the concentrate on your clothing or body. If you do spill some, wash it off immediately.
4. Avoid excessive breathing of both concentrates and diluted sprays, and also excessive contact with them.
5. Store insecticides where they cannot be reached by animals and children or mistaken for other products.
6. Read carefully all labels on the container, and be sure to follow the recommended precautions.

Cool Hogs Will Gain Faster Here

Your hogs will have to be cool these hot summer months to make good gains and good use of feed.

G. R. Carlisle, University of Illinois animal science specialist, says that in the test hogs kept at 70 degrees made normal gains. They ate only about 350 pounds of feed for each 100 pounds of gain.

But when the temperature was raised to 100 degrees, these same hogs almost stopped gaining. And they needed almost four times as much feed — or about 1,400 pounds — to gain 100 pounds.

Here's how to keep your hogs comfortable and gaining weight in summer.

1. Provide about 10 to 12 square feet of shade per hog.
2. put an easy-to keep-clean wallow in the sun near the shade — not under the shade. A wallow 10 feet on each side will take care of 50 pigs.
3. keep a fresh supply of water near the shade and feeders.

Corn Outlook Good On Farms

Exactly a year ago on July 15, terrific temperatures and lack of rain were reducing the corn crop daily in the south half of the Corn Belt. This year plentiful rainfall and 90 degree temperatures in the first half of July have provided conditions almost ideal for the crop.

Last year's July 1st estimate of a 3-1/3 billion bushel corn crop was reduced below 3 billion by August 1st. Currently, it looks like the U.S.D.A. estimate of 3.4 billion bushels on July 1st could increase to over 3.5 billion by August 1st. The largest U.S. corn crop was in 1948 with 3.6 billion bushels.

IN GENERAL, corn is ahead of average west of the Mississippi and about average east of it. Detasseling progress at DeKalb's production plants is a good check on maturity. Detasseling is most advanced at Redwood Falls, Minnesota, where the first tassels were pulled on July 5th. At Waterman and Esmond, in Northern Illinois, detasseling had just begun on July 15.

At Mt. Carmel in southern Illinois, some fields were finished, others would not be started for some time, due to wide range of planting dates, due to wet weather. Corn in Texas was pretty well matured by July 15th.

WHEAT AND OATS yields approached the phenomenal in many Corn Belt areas. Southeast Nebraska reported some wheat yields up to 75 bushels, with an increase of 50 to 100% credited to use of commercial fertilizer. Nearly all Iowa and Illinois oats yields are well above average in bushels and quality. Central Illinois reports yields of 70 to 80 bushels as common.

The corn borer, while plentiful, has not approached early fears as to numbers or damage. Less spraying was done than anticipated, but there are planty of borers in corn to produce a bumper second brood with favorable conditions now existing.

To Observe National Farm Safety Week

"Your Safety is in Your Hands."

That's the slogan adopted this year to help observe national farm safety week, July 24-30, according to Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser.

The reason for national farm safety week is to encourage rural people to learn and obey farm safety rules.

Most farm accidents last year involved some violation of a "common-sense" safety rule. If we are to hold down the toll of farm accidents this year, every member of every farm family in Cook County and in the state of Illinois must become familiar with the rules of safety in the home, at work, in traffic and at play. Then they must practice these rules every day of the year.

Unless extra precautions are taken, accidents will cause 17,000 fatalities and 1,500,000 disabling injuries, and 35,000 buildings will be destroyed by fire in the next twelve months, according to the Illinois Rural Safety Council.

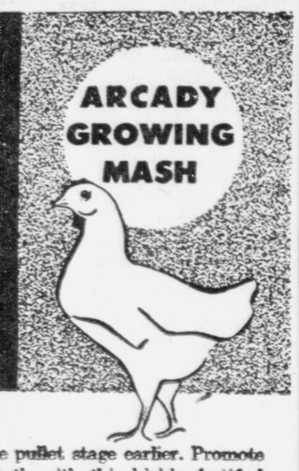

"Let's all observe Farm Safety Week the year round," Mees suggests.

Farm Yields

A University of Illinois farm economist says that one of the chief lessons we can learn from price-support programs is that government can legislate prices and acreages, but it cannot legislate consumption and yields.

Farm Homes Dangerous, Same As Tractors, Pickers

Corn pickers and tractors are dangerous farm machines, but more than twice as many fatal accidents in 1953 occurred in farm homes as outside the home.

An article in the July IAA Record, monthly publication of the Illinois agricultural association, points out that homemakers are in the best position to concentrate on a farm safety program.

"Seemingly harmless things such as slick floors, loose scatter rugs, and toy-littered floors appear to offer as much danger to human life as corn pickers and tractors," according to the article. The IAA is the statewide Farm Bureau organization.

"There are about 16,000 fatal accidents to rural people every year, the largest percentage resulting from falls inside the farm home.

"THESE DANGEROUS falls can happen anywhere—they are not restricted to shaky stepladders or steep stairways. Actually, about 80 per cent of falls occur when the victim falls on the same level, and only 20 per cent down stairs or off ladders," the magazine reports.

Thus the most innocent-appearing places cause the most accidents.

"Safety must be a continuing project, with attention to details, if it is to pay off. Putting shields around power take-off shafts while overlooking loose scatter rugs is not an adequate safety program," the Record states.

"THE BEST WAY to make your home and farm safe is to begin a systematic check of hazards and unsafe practices. The farm division of the National Safety Council has safety check lists available.

"Remember that safety starts in your own home, and to prevent accidents you must recognize hazards and eliminate them as quickly as possible," the magazine article concludes. (Fm

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser
CARL F. MEES

Have you driven down the Highways recently and stopped at some of the vegetable stands. If not, do it now for you will have an opportunity to get some very fine home grown vegetables.

Cook County grows the best sweet corn that can be purchased anywhere. Most road side stand operators pick their corn early in the morning so that it will be fresh when you purchase it. The secret to having good sweet corn is to get it cooled and on ice as soon after it is picked as possible. In a few hours, especially if the weather is hot 50 to 80% of the sugar in the corn will turn to starch and the corn will no longer be sweet.

MANY FARMERS pick their corn, bag it and ice it before it is delivered to the store. In that way the temperature of the corn never gets very high and the sugar content is preserved.

When we put corn in the freezer, I always like to get if fresh from the field and get it in the freezer in a minimum of time. Preferably in an hour or two.

If you have not gotten any home grown sweet corn this year, be sure to stop at some of our good roadside stands soon. Plan to have some on the menu several times each week.

WHEN STOPPING at the stand look over the variety of vegetables that are available. You will find that you can get some wonderful cabbage at reasonable prices. Red beets are also available. They can be creamed or pickled and are particularly good to eat in hot weather.

Carrots are in season now. We grow very good carrots in the county. The flavor and quality is unexcelled.

Green beans are plentiful at the present time. If they are picked at the right stage they are tender and delicious. Onions both green and dry are in abundant quantities. They can always be used for seasoning.

SQUASHES are also available. If you like squashes, obtain them from your local roadside stand.

Tomatoes will be ripe in a week or two. There may be a few available now, but not in abundance. I do not think you will find tomatoes anywhere that have the flavor of our home grown tomatoes.

These are just a few of the vegetables available at our road side stands. When you stop you may find others.

Why don't you take a drive out in the Country four or five times a week and buy your vegetable supply fresh from the farm. Don't buy too many at a time for vegetables lose their quality and flavor with age, but buy often.

Federal Highway Program To Cost Farmers, Too

A provision of the expanded federal highway construction program would cost Illinois farmers an estimated $2,000,000 a year, Otto Steffey, president of the Illinois agricultural association, warned.

The IAA is the statewide farm bureau organization with more than 202,000 members. The IAA president made his comment in referring to the proposal to boost federal gasoline tax from two to three cents a gallon.

"Gasoline used for agricultural purposes is not exempt from the tax," explained Steffey. "Farm bureau believes gasoline for off-highway farm use should be tax exempt.

"ILLINOIS FARMERS now pay $4,000,000 annually in federal gasoline taxes. The one-cent increase would make the cost-price squeeze on the farmer even greater and would total about $2,000,000 more to the federal treasury."

Steffey urged farmers to contact their Congressmen and ask them to modify the bill so that gasoline used for agricultural purposes is tax exempt.

The bill (HR 7072) calls for a federal 12-year highway construction program authorizing a total expenditure of 47 billion dollars. The bill also calls for an increase of the tax on diesel fuel from two to six cents per gallon. (FM

Farm Safety On Farm TV Show

Otto Steffey, president of Illinois agricultural association and the Illinois rural safety council, will help safety specialists give demonstrations on rural safety on "Farmtown, U.S.A." Sunday, July 24.

National farm safety week begins on that date, and the half-hour television show at 2 p.m. on WBBM-TV (channel 2) will stress safety practices relating to farm machinery, electricity, and highway travel.

"Farmtown, U.S.A." is a CBS educational department feature presented in cooperation with the IAA and Pure Milk Association. George Menard is master of ceremonies for the show.

The safety demonstration car, presented by the IAA insurance services, will be demonstrated on the program with three different drivers taking part. It measures the distance needed to react when an emergency arises and the distance the auto travels after the brake is applied. The vehicle is equipped with a special electric device used to mark the pavement. (FM

In Duroc Show

George Lauffenburger, Palatine, is consigning purebred durocs to the National Duroc congress to be held at Cedar Rapids, Ia., July 28, 29 and 30. He has entered a spring boar and spring gilt.

This is the ninth national Duroc congress sponsored by the United Duroc record association of Peoria.

Over 300 head of meat type Durocs from 15 different states will be competing for more than $4,000 in prize money. (Fm

Columnist Of The Week

Paul H. Little, 5425 East View Park, Chicago, who writes "Needle in the Groove," has spent 33 of his 40 years in Chicago—the other 7 were in Los Angeles going to junior and high school; he confesses a strong desire to return to the west coast.

A graduate in journalism of Northwestern university, Little has been advertising director for 2 major food chains, publicity agent for RCA Victor and Capitol records, and now hi-fidelity advisor for Newark Electric co. Since 1939 he has been editor of the national monthly, "Musical Leaders," and has written 40 individual columns for suburban newspapers as well as syndicating a release to 650 small town weeklies.

"It's a joy to turn an avocation into a vocation," he says, "and as a matter of fact, I owe my domestic bliss to music, for I met my wife-to-be playing my favorite concerto in a record shop, where I was publicizing a famous opera star—whom I promptly neglected in the interests of getting a date with a very beautiful redhead!"

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

Hellberg, Richard — In loving memory of our darling little son and brother, Richard, who passed away 20 years ago July 19th.
Though 20 long years have come and gone,
You're still within our hearts,
Our ties of love are stronger still
'Twas God who bade us part.
No scales of miles can distance you;
Your voice, your step, seem near
And memories of those days with you
Grow brighter every year.
Loving Mom, Dad and Sister Carole.

Palatine 4-H Club Reports On Meeting

The meeting of the Palatine Township 4-H was called to order July 12, at 8:45 with the pledge to the flag.

Phyllis Berlin read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report. Harold Bergman handed out last minute membership cards. Rogar Beirman made a motion that the club should invite the Washington club for a game of baseball. The date was decided for July 31 at 2 p. m. Steve Bergman laid a motion on the floor that the roll call should be answered by a favorite ballclub, ball player or sports. Harold Bergman passed out ballots for the voting of the king and queen of the North Cook 4-H clubs. The ballots were then collected and sent to Mr. Bicket at the farm bureau. Wesley Plote brought up the annual 4-H tour taken July 20.

The meeting was closed by the pledge to the 4-H flag and refreshments were served by Jeraldine Plote and Carol Bierman.

4-H Clubs To Hold Combined Program

Clever Clover and Sewing Susies 4-H clubs will hold a combined local achievement program tonight, July 21, at St. Peter Lutheran school gym, Arlington Heights at 7:30 p.m. The agenda includes demonstrations by Audrey Gronert, Nancy Mees, and Lynn Lemmerhirt.

Entertainment will be provided by Jerry Sieben at the piano; Brenda and Doris Rudolph with a vocal duet; Mary Jane and Betty Lou Schulse with an accordian and guitar duet and Mary Nielsen with a piano solo. All 4-H members will model their clothing projects in the dress revue while Lynn Rodewald and Marlene Krambeer narrate it. Judy Ahmer will be mistress of cremonies for the evening.

RIGHT MOTIVES

There is no man, no woman, so small but that they cannot make their life great by high endeavor.

4H CLUB

Picnics Help 4-Hers Enjoy Summer

4-H club work has many enjoyable activities scattered through it along with its usual amount of work.

Here we see a portion of the Junior Farmers 4-H club under the able leadership of Victor Pohlman ready to leave on an all day picnic to Fox River Grove. The balance of the club met at the picnic area. The boys were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oehlerking, Mrs. Esther Carney and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pohlman.

THIS PICNIC was the result of prior planning at one of the regular meetings where these young people have an opportunity to develop those skills and abilities necessary in order that they be able to assume similar roles in their community in years ahead.

Each 4-H club operates under a set of oficers elected each year. These officers have a golden opportunity to assume the role of leadership. The balance of the membership is not left out, because theirs is an opportunity to assume the part of a member of a group to be able to discuss clearly and intelligently business before the group and abide by the decision of the group once it has been made, is a responsibility they have that is all too often neglected today.

'Homes Receive Best Care In Years,' Says Real Estate Head

The homes of America are now being given the best care in history said Chas. A. Hodlmair, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

"Home owners and occupants are spending nearly as much for home improvements annually as others are spending for the purchase of new homes," the board leader said. "The annual outlay for new residential construction last year was estimated at $12 billion.

Much of this expenditure for repairs and remodeling has gone toward improvement of neglected houses of the cities. Individuals, community organizations, and local governments are all part of this unprecedented housing rejuvenation.

CITIES have always recognized the need for protecting lives and health of their citizens. But they now see, in addition, the necessity of overcoming apathy to do so. In short, our urban communities are awakening to the need for firm enforcement of adequate housing codes. Where codes are inadequate, they are taking steps to bring them up to usefulness.

The result is the record-breaking total of 237 cities are now actively engaged in enforcing housing and sanitary codes, according to the Build America Better Council of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

"This enforcement usually means improvements of individual home units are required — in some cases bathrooms must be installed by the owners, tottering porches are replaced, shaky timbers reinforced, and modern plumbing and heating equipment is installed in place of outmoded items," Hodlmair said.

"With the solidifying of homes generally in these cities — and in countless cases elsewhere — painting, refurbishing and attractive home touches usually accompany these efforts.

"IN ADDITION, our Build America Better program urges housing rehabilitation be linked with neighborhood-wide improvement where needed. Some cities are already carrying out this coordinated work. Schools are brought up to physical standards, streets and street lighting facilities are made adequate, garbage collections services are improved, and some unfit houses are demolished to make way for playgrounds in a rehabilitation neighborhood.

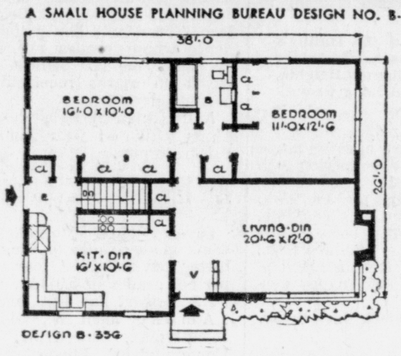

This way of housing and community improvement demonstrates private and community action can meet the challenge of urban decay and provide adequate low-cost housing for all. It shows our country's private enterprise can do this job.

Public housing — dwellings built and operated by government — is at odds with the concept of individual and community responsibility to cure the problem of unsafe and insanitary housing. Moreover, public housing tends to stifle and defeat the very enterprise which would improve our run down housing inventory and the neighborhoods in which they are found.

Realtors are active campaigners in the drives to enlist individual and community in neighborhood conservation efforts. Our way of doing the job is to put the responsibility squarely where it belongs. That is the direct, equitable and swift method of attacking slum conditions. Realtors are those realty brokers who, as members of local real estate boards and of NARE, are pledged to protect property rights

Deep, Long Drink Is Big Need Of Thirsty Tree

When the "dog days" of summer arrive, trees, as well as people, appreciate a long, cool drink.

During summer trees, shrubs and evergreens often suffer severely from thirst, according to J. M. McNees, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. With hot and possibly dry weather ahead and with spring rainfall largely exhausted now is the time to plan a watering program. A regular weekly one will do for rule-of-thumb. But unusually hot, dry weather demands a five-day schedule, especially for the newly transplanted specimen.

For large trees and shrubs, water should be applied slowly to seep through to the deepest roots. With evergreens, spray the foliage with water, too, any time other than during the heat of the day.

Most people water tree transplants regularly during the first year or two. The third and fourth years also require watering care. In some cases, the root system is still under-balanced in relation to the top growth. The tree then must obtain its all-important water supply from too limited a soil mass.

Trees in drought areas usually can be helped by feeding, too. This applies to most woody plants, regardless of variety or size.

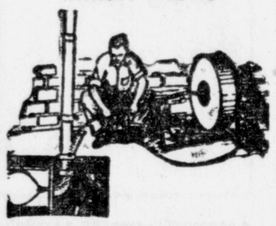

Extra watering during hot, dry weather helps all kinds of plants. With established large trees, let the lawn sprinkler run for several hours in one place to reach the deep roots. (DL

Mrs. Church Sponsors Hoover Commission Bills

The "bill box" at the right of the Speaker's Rostrum bulged to overflowing on July thirteenth when Representative Marguerite Stitt Church, (R), Illinois, dropped in her load of fifty individual bills —a reported Congressional record for the introduction of legislation by any member during one Congressional day.

In a speech before the House, Mrs. Church hastened to indicate that these fifty individual pieces of legislation constituted the measures prepared so far to implement the recommendations of the Second Hoover Commission and urged that they are given prompt consideration by the appropriate committees of the House and in particular receive the close attention of every member of the House. Mrs. Church stated that her interest arose not only from her well-known determination for a maximum of efficiency and economy in government but because, as a member for four years of the House committee on government operations, she, herself, has taken a major interest in the recommendations of the first Hoover commission as well as in other plans for legislative and executive reorganization.

When fellow members, in astonishment, questioned the number of the bills, Mrs. Church's only comment was that there would be more when ready. She intends to introduce the entire group of bills seeking to implement the recommendations of the second Hoover commission.

Natural Preservative

Nature has built a special oily preservative into western red cedar lumber which makes this popular species highly resistant to insects and decay. For that reason, western red cedar is used where it is exposed to weather as siding for homes, fences, garden structures, planters wooden flower tubs and in other ways.

Cinderella Tree

West coast hemlock, once considered a weed tree, today is one of the nation's most versatile species. Much sought after now for pulp making, it is popular as well as a lumber source. Because of its strength it was used in aircraft building in both wars, and its long wear makes it an ideal material for flooring and exterior siding.

Village Smithy Retires After 58 Years Service

George B. Umbdenstock, who for 58 years carried on the traditions of the village blacksmith at Long Grove, has sold the smithy and equipment of the motor-age shop that grew out of it, but he'll continue to make Long Grove his home.

"We intend to stay in Long Grove," said Umbdenstock, speaking for himself and his wife, Caroline.

Proceeds of the public auction of blacksmith equipment totaled about $1,500. Umbdenstock applied the money on purchase, from E. Sawyer Smith of Winnetka, of the old wood products place near the school. There, he and Mrs. Umbdenstock will make their home.

"We haven't started to move yet," said Umbdenstock, "but that's where we'll be."

Long Grove, a Lake County village that strives to preserve the atmosphere and traditions of the days of craftsmanship and countryside living, is most happy that the retired village blacksmith is going to remain.

Umbdenstock was a lad of 15 when he learned the smithy's trade at the forge of his father, George B. Umbdenstock. The elder Umbdenstock had learned the craft of the forge at Arlington Heights, and after his marriage in 1873 established his shop at Long Grove.

His son, Long Grove's oldest merchant and former fire chief for 15 years, remained in Long Grove upon his marriage in 1909.

The clang of the hammer on the heated plowshare and the sizzle of sudden steam when the hot metal was plunged into a tempering bath were sounds that grew fainter in Long Grove about 1938.

That year, the newly widened McHenry road, cutting through town, made it necessary for Umbdenstock to push his shop back from the roadway. Automobiles, that populate today's roadways, brought further changes in the smithy. Horse shoeing gave way to patching tires, repair of buggy wheels drifted into the work of setting right the mechanical ailments of a train of model T's, motorcycles, and snappy convertibles.

In his dual role as smith and fireman, Umbdenstock gave fires priority.

Residents recalled he once delayed shoeing a horse when the fire alarm sounded. In a period dating from 1929, during years of service as a fire fighter (as assistant chief and chief) Umbdenstock missed but 5 fire calls. Meetings of the firemen's organization, once the fire district was established, always found Umbdenstock among those present.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

In the quiet moments of a quiet Fourth of July, one thinks. It's safer, it's saner, but I wish my children had seen the other kind at least once. (I wouldn't write this if I didn't know that 49 weeks from now, when it is nearly time for the Fourth, neither I nor anyone else will remember it.)

I know how my children must feel, and what they may possibly do. An uncle of mine was a minister. My cousin would frequently be in our town over the Fourth. As we went off on family picnics, my father supplied the firecrackers.

THESE WERE the only firecrackers my cousin ever had, and it wasn't even illegal to sell them then. My father, his sons and nephews would go off for a walk. And we would have a rare, good time — lighting the giant crackers, puting them under tincans, or paper boxes, or a mound of sand along the beach.

Somehow, during the course of the evening or later afternoon, my aunt would become aware of what we had been doing. With a stern look, she would say to my father, "Will, you are incor-ri-gible." She vowed that she would not spend the next Fourth of July in Baltimore.

But she forgot the following year, and so did my father. — No, it's more likely that he was completely undisturbed by her irritation. He was 15 years younger than she, and she had married late. "Will, you are incor-ri-gible," was a familiar chorus in his young life.

But he would tell us that ours was a poor substitute for the kind of Fourth they used to have along toward the end of the century.

TO CONCLUDE with a serious paragraph, this is a poorer substitute. It has so little to offer the children. Community fireworks displays come late at night, but there is almost nothing during the day to remind us of the historical significance of Independence Day.

An earlier age had community celebrations which lasted through the afternoon and into the evening when it ended with fireworks. Society needs to bring some positive element of the festival as well as the memorial to "a safe and sane Fourth." The elimination of dangerous fireworks is desirable, but sanity is a positive activity. Sanity is a positive activity.

'55 Wheat Supported Under Sliding Scale Formula

The 1955 wheat crop is the first to feel the effects of the sliding scale feature of present price support legislation, according to farm adviser Carl F. Mees.

Price supports for the 1954 crop were based on 90 per cent of parity and averaged for the nation, $2.24 per bushel. The full effect of the sliding scale formula won't be felt on the 1955 crop, however, he says, because of a special clause in the 1954 agricultural act. This clause set the level of supports at 82½ per cent of old parity for the 1955 wheat crop only. On this basis supports dropped 18 cents a bushel to $2.06.

SUPPORTS to Illinois farmers for the 1955 wheat crop will range from $2.11 to $2.19 a bushel for No. 1 wheat. To earn this the farmer must provide storage.

If marketing quotas are in effect in 1956, price supports will further reflect the sliding scale formula. They will drop to 76 per cent of parity, and parity will be figured 5 per cent lower, in transition from old parity to modern parity. Old parity is based on 1910-14 prices, and modern parity is based on prices of the last 10 years. Parity drops 5 per cent a year until it reaches modern parity.

Support levels for the 1956 crop will drop from 82p to 76 per cent of parity. This rate is figured from a formula set up by law that takes into account total supply in relation to expected consumption.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—I am planning to build a basementless house, which I want to have completely air conditioned, but the only place I have to install the equipment is a 2-foot-wide and 3-foot-deep closet. Is it possible to get all the equipment for summer cooling, as well as winter heating, in this limited space?

A—Yes, if you install a "remote" system. A space-saving cooling unit fits in the bonnet on top of the furnace. The compressor and the condenser are in a separate unit that goes outside the house or in the garage. Cooled air is blown through the same ducts used for heating. The entire system, originated by the Coleman company of Wichita, Kan., takes no more interior space than does the heating equipment alone.

Q—May I use a striped and a figured pattern in the same room?

A—Yes, but not in equal amounts. Let one predominate, the other act as a complement. You may also add plain accent colors to the two, as long as they repeat tones from the striped and figured patterns.

DESIGN FOR LIVING

Building - Remodeling - Improving

Residents had their first look at one of the two highway safety servicemobiles operated by secretary of state Charles F. Carpentier's office when the unit took part in the Palatine centennial observation from July 8-10. Besides being equipped to handle renewal applications for drivers licenses, visitors to the unit were able to have any questions regarding the drivers license department and the automobile department answered.

Shown in picture with the trailer—which also provides living quarters for the two men who staff it—are, left to right, Donald Gilliatt, drivers license inspector; Warren Montgomery, automobile investigator; William H. Colvin, chief clerk of the drivers license department; C. E. "Jack" Nelson, chief automobile investigator and Robert S. Cagle, chief investigator of the drivers license department.

Secretary Carpentier has two drivers licensing stations in the area. They are located at 107 N. Northwest highway in Barrington and in the Village hall, 107 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights. The Barrington station is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday, while the Arlington Heights station hours are from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m., Monday and Friday and 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Named Superior

Father Joseph N. Dearworth, SVD, who at 18 began his studies for the priesthood at St. Mary's Mission Seminary at Techny, has been appointed Superior of his alma mater by top Divine Word Missionary authorities in Rome, it was announced.

The community in care of 41-year-old Father Dearworth numbers some 350 members who range in ages from 14 to 88. The vast majority of these are training to be Divine Word Missionaries and will later serve in Catholic missions in China, Formosa, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, New Guinea, Chile, Paraguay, Brazil, Argentina, Gold Coast, Japan, Philippines, Belgian Congo and the United States.

Highest ranking member in Father Dearworth's care is His Eminence, the exiled Thomas Cardinal Tien, SVD, Archbishop of Peiping. It is seven years since the Chinese Cardinal has seen Peiping and for the past four-and-a-half years he has been residing here. Now 65, he spent one year in Shanghai and two in Hong Kong before coming here.

Father Dearworth was Rector for the past three years at St. Paul's Mission Seminary in Epworth, Iowa, one of eight Divine Word seminaries in the United States. The one at Techny is the largest of the eight and is the American motherhouse of the order. It was opened in 1909. (BB

High Level Business Seen In 2nd Half '55

Promising signs on the nation's business horizon point to continued high-level activity through the second half of 1955, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reports. Likely to buoy up the economy in July-December period, the bank says in its monthly review, are important sources of strength now present on the business scene. Among these upward forces are:

1. Increased business spending for new plant and equipment. According to a recent survey, outlays by late summer will probably run 10 per cent above the first-quarter seasonally adjusted rate.

2. LOW BUSINESS inventories relative to current sales. In a recent month, stock on hand had climbed only 1 per cent above last year's low, whereas total sales were up 12 per cent in the same comparison. Larger additions to stocks in the months ahead, the bank says, may provide an added stimulus to the over-all business picture.

3. Increased levels of employment and income. After a slow start, the number of wage and salary workers has climbed 1.2 million from last summer's low. A longer work week, higher pay and the increased number of jobholders pushed midspring wage and salary income to about 5 per cent higher than a year earlier.

AUTO PRODUCTION and home building are likely to hold to higher levels than was anticipated at the beginning of 1955. For one thing, both industries have continued to do very well. Auto sales are running at a record pace. In addition, dealer inventories, which had been rising rapidly through midspring, have recently tended to level off. Stock on hand amounts to about one month's supply at the current rate of sales.

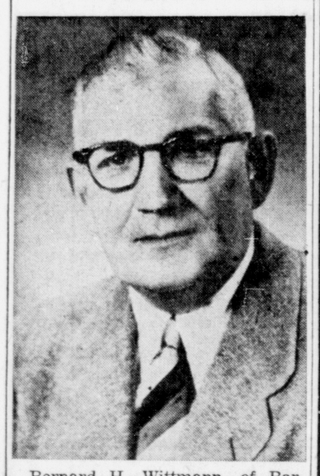

Housing starts, at a 1.3 million annual rate, were only moderately below the first-quarter high in April and May. Although new starts may taper off somewhat further in the months ahead, the bank says, the volume of work already under way virtually assures large-scale spending for some time to come.

DURING FIRST HALF of this year, business throughout the nation has been marked by broad and continuous expansion. Well below previous peaks at year-end, most measures are now pushing into new high ground. Industrial production has gained more than 6 per cent since the end of 1954.

Total national output of goods and services is currently close to a 375 billion dollar annual rate, more than 5 per cent above last summer. Retail sales, too, have been running exceptionally strong in recent months. (BB

Vice President

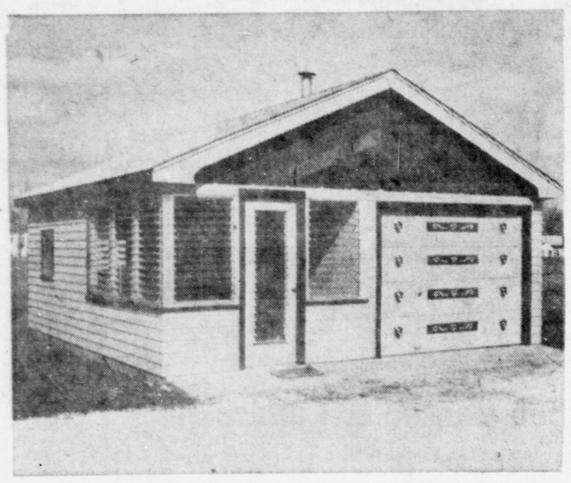

Bernard H. Wittmann, of Barrington, has been elected to vice president in charge of sales for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company. He succeeds Francis X. Mettenet, effective September 1, 1955.

Wittmann, who has been assistant vice president since April 1, 1955, joined Peoples Gas as a junior sales clerk in 1920. He successively advanced through several positions in the sales division and in 1939 was appointed manager of domestic sales. He was elected assistant to the vice president in August, 1953.

Born and reared in Chicago, the utility executive received his education in engineering at Lewis Institute, which now forms a part of the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Wittmann and his wife, Josephine, have resided on an 80-acre farm since December, 1952. They have a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ezra of Palatine. (BB

All cadets enrolled in the air force ROTC program are required to attend a summer camp as a part of their training program. Most of the cadets include this training phase in the summer between their junior and senior years in their academic work.

Libertyville OKs New Sales Tax

The Libertyville village board has voted unanimously to impose a sales tax of one-half of 1 per cent on all retail business conducted within village limits.

Maxon Home Wins European Acclaim

A National home, exhibited at an international trade fair in Barcelona, Spain, has won enthusiastic approval as an example of the American way of life, Maxon Construction Co., Barrington, National Homes builder-dealer in this area, was advised.

The home—a Custom-Line Fleetwood—was shown by National Homes in cooperation with President Eisenhower's program to bring to the attention of people in other countries the unparalleled standard of living of Amrican families.

From the moment that the Fleetwood, with its attractive contemporary design, was erected at the Barcelona fair it was crowded with admiring visitors. All were eager to know more about this typical American home.

With particular delight, they noted the spacious interior of the home. The Fleetwood has a living room with an exterior glass wall facing an attractive patio. The other walls are free of windows, assuring easy furniture arrangement. The center bearing wall is surfaced with stained, grooved plywood and adds a decorative touch to the room.

There are three, comfortably sized bedrooms, with plenty of closet space— a feature that enthused the women because European homes have little, if any, closet space.

When the visitors reached the kitchen they looked in wonder at its step-saving design and work-saving appliances and fixtures. There is an abundance of wall cabinets and base cabinets with Formica work surfaces.

Vets Should Apply Now For College Red Tape

Illinois veterans who plan to start school this fall under the Korean GI Bill have been urged by the veterans administration to apply for their papers before school terms begin. By applying for their VA certificates prior to admission, veterans will help to prevent delay in the processing of their papers as it is predicted that a record-breaking number of veterans will begin schooling for the first time this fall.

Robert D. Beer, VA's manager for Illinois, pointed out that the need for applying for initial papers pertains only to those veterans who are starting training under the GI Bill programs for the first time.

It is estimated that 6,000 veterans in Illinois will enroll this fall for the first time in colleges and universities, while approximately 35,000 others will return to their classes after the summer vacation.

In The Future

A 29-pound aluminum desk, full-size, can be moved around a plant when paper work must be done at several locations... A marking pencil carries a year's supply of ink which flows through a felt "point" . . . a plastic tray with pockets for six sandwiches and four cups of coffee is a boon to the worker selected to shop for his co-workers' snacks... For a dollar you can buy ten rust-proof magnets to make potholders cling to stoves, dishtowels to sinks, and so on.

Tranquil, one l; tranquillity, two l's. Loath (adjective meaning reluctant); loathe (verb meaning to disregard with disgust). Portable (capable of being carried); potable (drinkable).

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Rebuff (noun); a curt refusal to meet an advance or offer; a snub. "The salesman was undaunted by the customer's rebuff."

Recondite; hidden from the mental view; abstruse; obscure. (Pronounce rek-un-dit, e as in set, i as in die, accent first syllable). "Who can fathom the recondite causes of some things?"

Sanctimonious; making a show of sanctity. "He was a santimonious hypocrite."

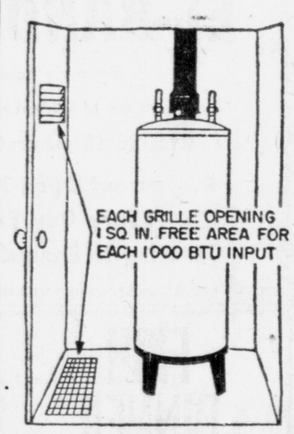

Malevolent; wishing evil; disposed to injure others. "He put his scheme to work with a malevolent ingenuity."

Insolence; overbearing demeanor; brutal impudence. "Ill-bred insolence was his only weapon."

Beguile; to while away. "This is a book to beguile the tedious hours."

New Water Heater? Know Your Flues And Your Btu's

Water heater needs air to breathe.

Install a water heater in the right place and it will give better service, says the Coleman Heating Institute, Wichita, Kan., a training school operated by a leading manufacturer.

The institute's engineers give this advice:

1. A gas water heater requires a grille or louver opening of one square inch for each 1,000 Btu's of heat input. The Btu input rating is marked on the nameplate of the heater.
2. Put the heater in a central location, near a good flue.
3. Make sure the heater is level and sits solidly on the floor.

Puffer To Be Installed For 5th Term

Noble J. Puffer, who was first elected Cook County Superintendent of Schools in 1935, will be sworn in for his fifth term of office Monday, August 1, at 10:30 a.m. in his office at 69 West Washington st., Chicago.

Judge John Charles Lewe, of the First District Appellate Court of Illinois, an old personal friend of Puffer's, will administer the oath of office.

Long known as a fighter for better schools, not only for Cook County but for the state of Illinois as well, Superintendent Puffer is noted for his strong program of aid to handicapped children, a well-balanced milk and lunch program for the underprivileged, and his battle on behalf of increased state aid for the Illinois public schools.

Under Puffer's leadership, Cook County teaching standards have been raised and public funds have received greater protection through his drive to have township school treasurers covered by casualty bonds rather than personal bonds.

At present, Puffer is lending his active support to a program proposed by leading educators of the state, and sponsored by the School Problems Commission, which would provide for creation of a state school building authority with a seven and a half million dollar revolving fund.

"This would be a loan fund, said Puffer, "from which school boards could draw to further their building programs. It would help relieve badly over-crowded conditions in 35 school districts and would help make possible putting 155 classes of children on full day school sessions."

Superintendent and Mrs. Puffer live in Palatine, Illinois, and have two sons, John A., and Richard J. John lives in Barrington Woods and Richard is a lieutenant (JG) in the Navy, stationed in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Looking For A Celebrity, Bachelor? See Phone Book

by JEAN SMITH

Have you ever seriously considered the seemingly limitless volume of information tucked away in the local area phone book? It's literally a "you name it —we have it" proposition and if you don't agree, read on! Your name and number may be "coming up."

Webster defines a name as a "term or title by which a person or thing is called or known." And while a rose by any other name would be just as sweet, if you're thinking in terms of a new car — without so much as a glance into the classified section — dial CL 3-0000 for a Packard, which obviously is not the correct phone number but there is a Glenn G. Packard living in Mount Prospect. There are 5 Clearbrook numbers and one Palatine phone if you prefer a Ford and there are 2 other phones (given on request) if your liking is toward a Buick. If you want a Lincoln, sorry, we only list Lincoln school in Mount Prospect at Cl 3-1620.

Celebrities?

On the other hand, phoning celebrities might be fun, so how about Franco, who lives locally on Palatine road, or Mr. Robeson — who's first name is not Paul, but Raymond — or Mr. Tell, of whom there are 2 choices, neither of whom bears the name of William. Still, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Crockett of 638 N. Hickory do have a son, Davy, while the Crocketts at 802 S. Chestnut have no such claim to fame!

Perchance your interest lies in the home, and we suggest for a roof-man, Kenneth C. Roof at 328 E. Chicago, Palatine. A davenport? Absolutely! We recommend O. F. Davenport at 314 S. Beverley.

Weight of Numbers

For weight of numbers, the phone book gives first place to the Johnsons, who list 110 such families with 3 Johnsens, making an impressive total of 113. Next come the Andersons with 96 strong and 7 more using the spelling of "Andersen." The Millers come in with a 73 total, but they also have distant relations who call themselves "Muellers" and there are 33 of them.

The Meyer clan actually precede the Millers, for they have 84 adherents with 6 more members who spell their names with an "s." Besides there are 4 Myers and one other Myer. Not too far behind come the Smiths, who rate a weak 71 listings with 2 under the heading of Smyth and one listed as Smythe. Likewise you'll find 72 Petersens with 2 Pettersens and also 2 Pettersons.

The Joneses-Busses-Nelsons

Keeping up with the Joneses is actually no problem here, for there are only 22 of them with telephones. But getting back to numbers, you'll find 52 Busses, 35 Schroeders, 33 Swansons, 29 Schmidts, with 49 Nelsons augmented by 1 Nelsen and 15 Nielsens. Not to be overlooked are the 31 Hansens, plus 10 Hansons and 30 Thompsons who also live in these parts.

If you'd like to get in touch with John Smith, we can help you! We find 4 such important persons taking up space under the Smiths. If you desire to contact another famous person, Patricia Alden, we are sorry, but the one Mrs. Alden shown does not answer to that name, for her given name is Avis.

How About Adam, Berry, Barry?

Adam is most certainly the very first name in the Bible, and if you will scan the local directory you'll soon come across 6 Adam listings and still further you will find 9 families who have added an "s" and made it Adams. We're sorry to disappoint you, but we have no Eve — that is, as far as the last names are concerned. We do boast an Even or two however, for one such family lives in Palatine and another in Arlington Heights.

Does the great-out-of-doors fascinate you? We have 7 Woods, 3 Plant, an Appel and an Appell. We also boast one Bush and 8 Busches, plus 14 Roses, one Cherry, a Beery, 3 Berrys, one Barry and one David Brooke. If you prefer your brooks in the plural, we have 8 Brooks to catch your eye.

Fishing?

So you're a dyed-in-the-wool fisherman! We can help you, for we list a Basse, 4 Bass and one Trout. Also we have a Beer, one Beers and a Beier. And as long as we're out in the open, you might like to consider the other wild-life, consisting of 12 Wolf families, 9 Fox, 1 Bear, 3 Buck, 5 Swan, and 1 Dove. There is also a Deer Grove Corner Store bearing an address on Dundee road.

Foreign Parts

This is lots of nonsense, but we also have a blend of the international among us with 2 France families, 7 Berlin, 1 English and 1 Paris. We also notice that Franco—of the United States, not Spain — resides on Palatine road.

As far as others of renown are concerned, we do have 5 families bearing the famous distinction of Bach and one who carries the also well-known musical name of List.

Shortest Names

While we have looked the situation over pretty carefully, we may have missed you, but for the shortest names we submit Ber, Lee, Ley, Low, Loy, Bee, Alb, Cyr, Dee, Deu, Dod, Dye, Lux and Fex. There's also Fry, Gay, 2 bearing the name Hey, and one family each of Ims, Joy, Kay, Kob. There are also 2 Nau families shown with Mee, Pry, Pio, Rix, Roh, Ryg, Way, Zak boasting just one each. Rightly enough, one of the shortest, Zyc, is the final listing shown in the entire book.

Also boasting a very short name, but with 8 duplicates, are the May group who reside in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Palatine.

The Longest?

Perhaps you may do better, but we feel that the 16 families bearing the 16-letter name Scharringhausen should be awarded the prize for the longest name in the area. There is also one family with an equally long and similar name, the Carl A. Scharninghousens of Quintens road, Palatine.

For honorable mention along this line, we would also like to submit the Christofferson family of Prospect Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Christoffersen of Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Christophersen of Palatine, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Christophersen of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Christopherson of Arlington Heights. They have 14 letters in their last names and not to be forgotten is Charles P. Brettschneider of Greenwood road, Arlington Heights who also has a 14-letter name.

How About Colors?

They do say that brown is a good color for this summer, in fact the fashion experts stress it, so we can't go wrong with 36 Brown families in our midst. To make the list complete, we also can't forget the Harry B. Brownes of Mount Prospect and the Robert S. Brownes of Palatine.

We also would like to present a few other colorful names including 8 Blacks, 3 Reds, and 21 Whites.

Plummer, Workman

In that touch-up job around the house this summer, maybe you'd be interested in these facts! We have a Boss, Robert A. at 2404 W. George, a Workman, Clifford W., at 2310 Eastman, and a Plummer, Charles E. at 1243 N. Chicago, all of whom live in Arlington Heights.

Likewise, if you'd like to reach the clouds, we suggest phoning Eugene B. Cloud of 802 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights. For Barbers we have 3, Taylors 16, Bakers 16 and a Fiddler, Roy L. at 304 N. Haddow.

Directions

Do you need help in getting your directions? That we can remedy for we have all 4 listed. Take for example Glenn E. East, William E. North, the 3 Wests and for South we submit the South Community Church as well as the South School.

Christian names also appear frequently in the phone book pages, for a search reveals 2 families named Christ, with several from that same root, including Christensen, Christenson, Christiansen and Christian. Still along this same line of thought we find 2 Gabriel, 19 Peters, 3 Peter, 3 Paul, 11 Thomas, 4 John and 2 James.

Burns, Pain, Frost

Speaking of Burns, there are 12 of them, with one Pain and also a Paine and 3 Paynes. We also boast of 5 Frost listings but not one Jack. You mentioned the Campbells, and they are coming, but there are just 15 to date.

May we also submit 12 Cook and 3 Cooke for your approval. Also not to be overlooked are the 2 Combs, 3 Comfort families and the one Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Coller.

The "O's" Have It

Not to be forgotten, of course, are the Irish, who have not only the O'Beirnes, the O'Briens, the O'Byrnes and the O'Connors, but also can point out the O'Donnells, O'Dors, O'Dwyers, O'Garas, O'Gradys, O'Hagans and O'Hearns. Then there's the O'Kanes, O'Keefes, O'Learys, O'Malleys, O'Neils, O'Reileys and the O'Sullivans and perhaps others we have forgotten.

If you're looking at this from a monetary angle, consider the James S. Pence family, of Arlington Heights, the George A. Nickel family of Mount Prospect and the 3 other Nichels families living in this vicinity. Then of course there are the 3 Nichols families also shown in the directory plus the 3 Nickols who are also residents. Lest we overlook anyone, there are 2 others with the name Nicol, including David L. of Mount Prospect and Robert of Arlington Heights.

Most Desirable?

Before we conclude this classic, we can't help but point to that most desired of all names as far as any match-making hostess is concerned, the elusive bachelor. And we do have one of those, but only one, and we'll let you look the one Bachelor up for yourself.

United Charities Hit Drivers of Big Autos

Do you drive a Buick?

Is your name listed in Who's Who in Chicago?

Did your hometown paper recently publish an article about your new job promotion?

If so, don't be surprised if you're flooded with a barrage of strange telephone calls and dunning letters. You'll probably end up minus some dollars and cents.

What happened?

THE UNITED CHARITIES of Chicago has pounced on you to help make up a $53,000 deficit in their 1954 budget.

"We have to get our money any way we can," smiles genial Robert Nelson, executive director of the giant charity organization. "Our deficit can't exceed $20,000 this year and the budget must be balanced by 1956."

That means more money and new donors.

To swell the donor rolls, a "prospect list" is being expanded from 15,000 names to more than 40,000.

How do they find newcomers?

A VOLUNTEER worker daily scans the Chicago and suburban papers for news of job promotions or new executives moving into the area.

Another volunteer maintains a list of people who drive "Buicks or better."

Another source of names is the local Who's Who.

"If you get in that, you're sure to get hit," informed Nelson.

United Charities operates on a budget of more than $1.2 million a year.

Where do the dollars go?

In 1954:

—UC helped more than 20,000 through legal aid;

—UC added 13,000 persons through the Family Service Bureau; and —UC maintained a summer camp for needy adults and children.

But the continued deficits now require a cutback in service.

ONE OF THE hardest hit will be legal aid, which will discontinue handling bastardy cases in 1955 and turn them over to the state's attorney, who is legally responsible for such cases.

The role of public conservator in Probate court commitment proceedings will no longer be provided by United Charities.

Currently, the agency is spending $25,000 a year on foster homes for aged.

This program provides for old people who either have no family or have been evicted by their children.

The UC pays families to take in the elderly and pays them for the upkeep.

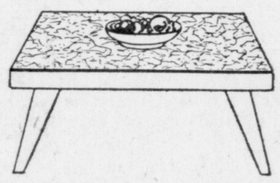

Unwed mothers account for a big proportion of UC service.

Of the 1,000 such women who came to United Charities for help last year, most were between the ages of 15 and 21.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Distinctive Table Top

IF YOU have a coffee table with a marred top but otherwise good appearance, you can make it like new without a lot of laborious refinishing. And at the same time you can give the table a distinctive feature that it never had—a marble pattern top with a surface that takes abuse.

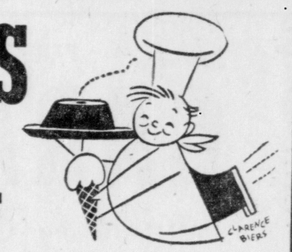

The simple job is done by applying a new top in the form of a plastic-finished Marlite panel in one of five authentic marble patterns. Widely used for walls and ceilings, the material is available at lumber yards.

Saw a panel to fit, allowing a fraction of an inch for smoothing edges by planing and sanding. Bond the panel to the table with adhesive and leave weights on top until the adhesive is set. Wax the edges or paint them to harmonize with the marble pattern and table finish.

Your new table top, with its baked-on plastic finish over a tempered Masonite hardboard base, will defy attacks by beverages, heat and wear. Damp-cloth wiping will clean it.

"Always The Finest Food And Beverages"

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We are now in the midst of watching the summer television fare. We have only one comment to make, Phooey, unquote. It isn't that we are so enamoured of winter, spring, and fall television, it is just that summertime seems to bring out the beast in the producers.

These August gentlemen apparantly have many, many suppressed desires that the summer provides the outlet for. Or, to be grammatical, that the summer for provides the outlet. As none of these versions seem to be correct, suffice it to say that every moment spent watching television this summer is a moment better spent in learning the gentle art of tatting.

This has been our week for getting our summer suntan. Each summer, or rather along in the late spring, we make rather elaborate plans for getting brown on the epidermis. We sort of make vows to ourselves not unlike the New Year's resolutions we make in the winter. We vow before we will alow ourselves the pleasure of plopping out in the back yard and lapping up old sol, we will clean the basement.

This is in the nature of a reward offered to us by us for a job well done. Of course, things constantly come up that prevent us from doing our duty toward our lower floor. It was toward the middle of July that we forced ourselves to take care of all the things we had been moving basementward all winter.

Then we swore a solemn oath not to have any fun until we had caught up on the ironing. This in itself was in a fair way to keep us in the house for the next 6 months.

All of this makes us wonder what psychological twist makes us punish ourselves by doing all the tough stuff before we do the fun stuff. We are sure that Freud would have a field day with our habit of giving ourselves a reward for a job well done or at least done. What quirk keeps us from going ahead with the fun and letting the laundry fall by the wayside. And probably, pile up to the basement ceiltng.

And, amazingly enough, we have the answer to why we keep on with the washing and ironing. It is so simple. The family runs out of clothing and is vocal about the vacancies in the dresser drawers. So we aren't as fond of duty as we like to think.

Scandinavians Like Poets! Give Them Pensions, Easy Jobs

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Denmark takes care of its intellectuals. If a man writes verse and cannot make a living at it, he receives "the poet's pension" from the city treasury.

Authors who devote their time to research on odd subjects and who earn too little money from publication are also given pensions.

THIS MONEY is not connected to the state's regular scholarships. It comes directly from the city treasury and is intended to keep poor poets and other economically unsuccessful writers from turning to different work.

The academic-minded Danes realize that a man might not be able to pay a single month's rent from royalties on a book about, for example, the social life of ants or the marital difficulties of a fish. But because such work adds to the prestige of the nation, a pension is almost his right.

IN SWEDEN, however, a slightly different system is used for keeping intellectuals working in their field of interest.

Jobs are handed out that entail hardly any work and yet permit a person to maintain his standing among other thinkers and scholars. A post might be open that deals with the directorship of a government magazine, or even an advisor to a museum. A sculptor or writer might be appointed to the position and this will offer an income with much free time.

IN SWEDEN a man is usually a social failure, regardless of his intellect, unless he can maintain the price of pressed pants and a necktie. Since pensions to relatively young people would be frowned upon as something related to The Dole, this honorary post system keeps the intellectual producing in his own field with his self-respect intact.

The Icelanders take even better care of their poets and artists. Iceland is traditionally a nation of literates, and respect for the man who wishes to write is deeply ingrained in every child before he or she reaches high school. Even a man whose writings are understood by only a few extremists can usually manage a pension from the city treasury. Icelandic intellectuals are reputed to be rich compared to their brothers of other countries. They travel to France, Germany and Italy with relative frequency, and the tax-payers who contribute this support believe that it is money well spent.

About Your Health

Because worry or the state of being worried is an intangible condition that cannot be reached as readily as many other underlying conditions in disease, it would be likened to the famous Mark Twain comment on the weather—everybody talks about it, but no one does anything about it.

However, in the last few years, medicine has done something about this phase of mental health—it has developed psychosomatic medicine. The word psychosomatic is coined from the two Greek words meaning mind and body and the term defines the relationship between these two facets of the human being, according to educational committee of the Illinois state medical society.

ONE AUTHORITY said recently "when one has learned how not to worry, he has learned the philosophy of life." And yet, this mental conflict that comes within the realm of psychosomatic medicine is a difficult problem to overcome.

Some persons worry about the state of their health, the uncertainty of a job or the status of a loved one's health. There is probably no one person of a sincere nature who has not worried about something at one time or another.

But worry does not help to solve any problem—rather it causes new problems. In worry, the mind is never at rest and psychiatrists, experts in the study of mental disease, have proved the relationship between physical disease in many forms and the silent disturbing misery of the mind.

SLEEP IS DISTURBED; the appetite is disturbed; tension is developed and the ability to relax departs. And because worry is closely related to fear, the mind becomes obsessed with a fear of the future, leaving the brain with an awareness of unhappiness.

Even before the development of psychosomatic medicine, worry was considered a contributing cause to high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, diabetes and many degenerative diseases. In this role of contributing factor, worry affects the circulation of the blood and other tissues of the body.

IN MANY PERSONS, worry is relieved when they are capable of talking out their problem with some one. Some experts believe that repression of disturbing thoughts and problems intensifies the condition.

Probably the best way to overcome the mental obstacle of worry is to think and act in a calm fashion. Persons susceptible to worry should consult their physician, talk things out with him, let him locate the disturbing seed that is causing the condition.

Confidence and trust are necessary to achieve a calm nature. Let your physician know what is troubling you. He, with his skill and understanding, will set your mind at rest. With your mind at peace, the emotional effects on the body will be prevented.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

This week heralded the annual national association of music merchants convention, and it brought to Chicago the enterprising Bernie Silverman, who is sales manager of Norm Granz' "Jazz at the Philharmonic" discs under the famous Norgran and Clef labels. One of the most likable and imaginative executives in the record industry, Bernie has made us all grateful for bringing to a national public some of the finest jazz ever set to wax and grooves, at a time when cynical critics proclaim the deathknell of jazz.

Granted the school of the Twenties with greats like the immortal Bix, Jelly Roll Morton and that wonderful tribe which included King Oliver set standards hard to surpass, the fact remains that today's jazz from the west coast has a creative flair and originality of orchestration which have their own eminent values.

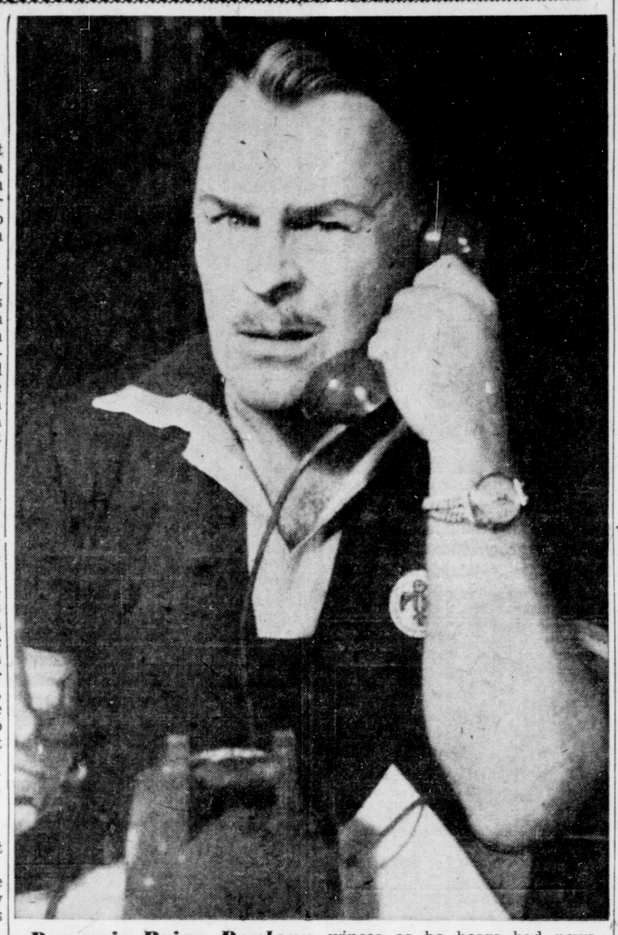

A VISIT to your community disc shop and a leisurely hour or two listening to some of the excellent waxings from JATP will prove this indisputably. We suggest such items as the terrific new 12-inch Clef album of Count Basie known as "Dance Session, Vol. 2," Johnny Hodges' alto sax wizardry in the 12-inch Norgran edition of "Dance Bash," and the Clef 12-incher "The Magnificent Charlie Parker." These are only a few of many which have been pouring forth each month from the bustling JATP factory, and they are all characterized by fine, clean hi-fi sound. Creative jazz at its best, such as you'll hear on the JATP platters, is as rewarding and inspiring as classical music.

The unusual in symphonic fare, too, is always an exciting experience. Some years ago London Records presented to us on discs for the first time the music of the great Danish composer Carl Nielsen (he died in 1937), who was unknown to us till that time. Now critics regard Nielsen as one of the musical giants of the century. An ideal introduction to his original idiom is the lyrical Violin Concerto, beautifully played by Yehudi Menuhin on Victor's English made HMV label. (Bill

How Girl Scouts washed their hands when they were attending a Brownie Scout day camp in June. Gail Merek, Skokie; Carole Gullon, Skokie, and Roberta Seidman, of the Sugar Maple unit at Harms woods assisted one another in getting really cleaned up. Brownie Scouts could choose any of five day camp locations to go to. Mothers of these girls also assisted as counsellors, Mrs. C. Hogan, Skokie, and Mrs. Robert Gullon, Skokie, being the leaders of this unit. —Cameron Photo

Raising and retreating the colors are a part of the opening and closing ceremonies at every Girl Scout day camp. In this picture taken at Deer Grove, one of the six locations at which day camps were held in June, Pat Roberts, Pat Taylor, and Holly Anderson, all Brownie Scouts from Palatine, salute the flag before retreating. —Cameron Photo

The Badlanders unit at the Brownie Scout day camp at Camp Pine in June made leaf prints which they never would have been able to make if they had actually been located in the Badlands of America. They chose their unit name because "Americana" was the theme of their day camp. Enola Gustafson, Arlington Heights; Carol Sorensen, Rolling Meadows; Patricia Kehrer, Rolling Meadows; Karen Serafine, Mount Prospect; Laurel Gebhart are the girls busy with this project. —Cameron Photo

If a Girl Scout eats, there is a dish to clean up afterward and Kathy Kuhn, Morton Grove, was one of those lined up from the Wee Willing Workers unit at Harms woods to wash her dish. Each dish was then put into a mesh bag, "dunked" into a pail of hot water, and hung up to dry. This is part of learning to live together in the outdoors at a Girl Scout day camp. —Cameron Photo

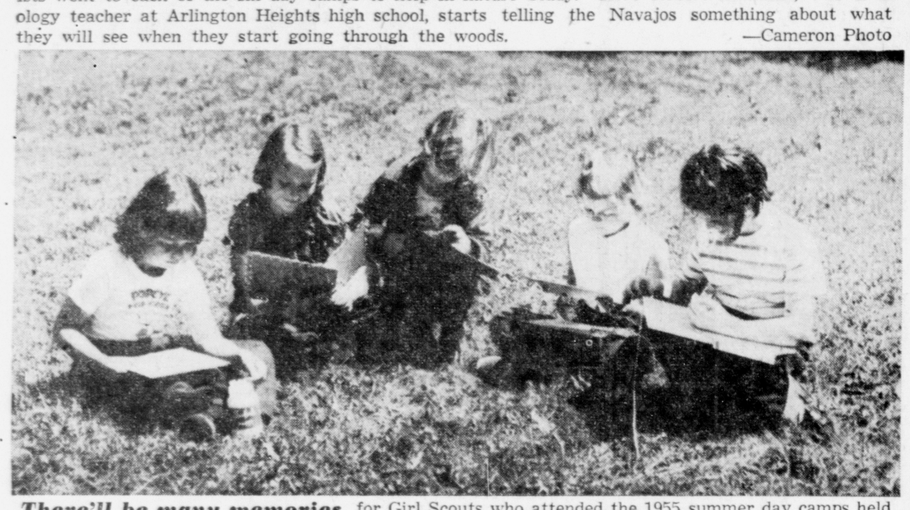

While she's casting, eyes are cast in her direction! This fashionable vacationer wears popular cotton Bermuda shorts and teams them with an eye-catching striped cotton knit shirt designed by Smartee. To complete the sports outfit, she wears long white cotton sox.

Intermediate and Senior Scouts went to the day camp at Lake Avenue woods west during June and came from all parts of the Northwest Cook County council. Forest preserve naturalists went to each of the six day camps to help in nature study. Here Robert Kemman, who is biology teacher at Arlington Heights high school, starts telling the Navajos something about what they will see when they start going through the woods. —Cameron Photo

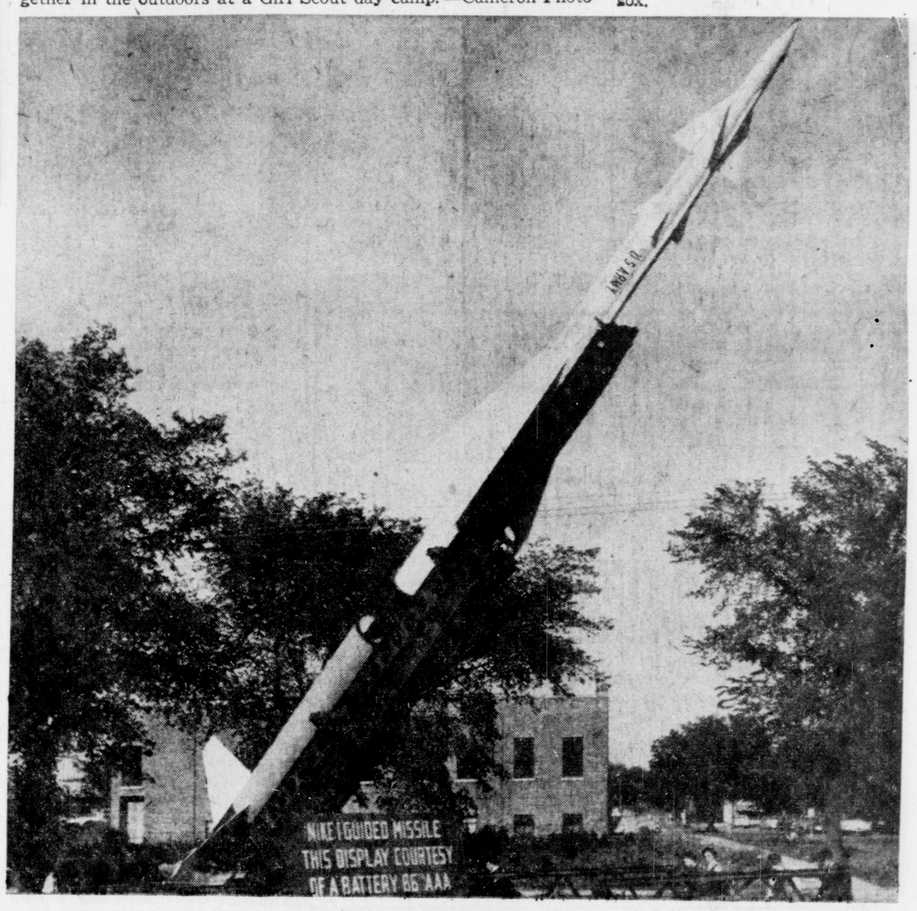

There is no food that is cooked that doesn't taste better when it is made outdoors over a wood fire. Carol Silverman, Pat McCoy and Nancy Watson, all from Park Ridge are determined that their "American chop suey" is not going to burn before they and the rest of their day camp unit at Dam 4 are ready to consume it. At this forest preserve one of the six Girl Scout day camps was located for scouts in the Northwest Cook county council area. —Cameron Photo

There'll be many memories for Girl Scouts who attended the 1955 summer day camps held for those who are in the area of the council of northwest Cook county. Barbara Dietrich, Palatine; Rae Estelle Sander, Arlington Heights; Carole Thuerk, Des Plaines, Janice Amon, Mount Prospect; and Lida Crippen, Park Ridge of the Texas unit at Camp Pine were assisted by their leaders, Mrs. Dorothy Patton, Mount Prospect, and Mrs. Lawrence Cullerton, Mount Prospect, in making books in which to store some of these memories. —Cameron Photo

Learning about nature is fun in the surroundings of a Girl Scout day camp. Some of the Indiana unit at Camp Pine stop midway in a hike to listen to their leader, Mrs. Fred W. Gieseke Jr., Arlington Heights, give them an interesting fact about a tree at which they are looking. The girls were from Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights, and Prospect Heights in this unit. —Cameron Photo

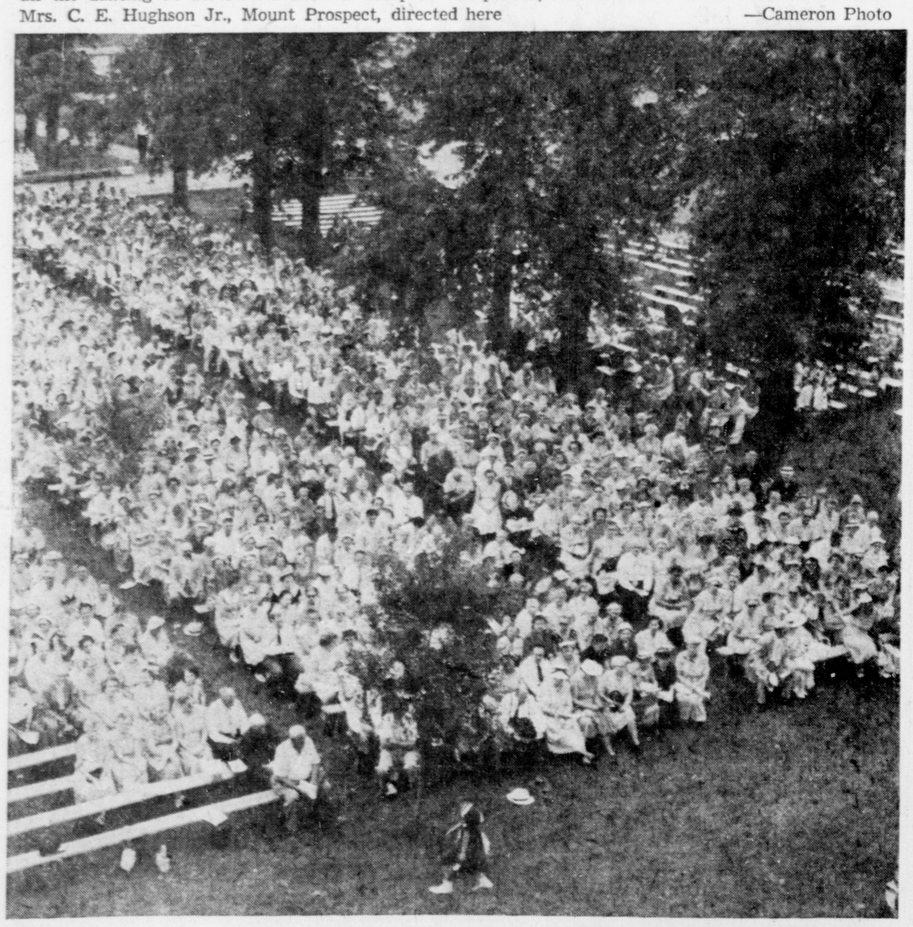

This Nike guided missile unit was on exhibit in Palatine during Centennial week. Exhibiting the equipment were Pvt. James R. Beckfelt, Grand Rapids, Minn.; Pfc. Guy L. Bush, Jackson Hole, Wyo.; Pfc. Russell L Groves, Grafton, Ill.; Pfc. William Sweatland, New York; Cpl. Edwin Curtis, Washington; and C.W.O. Jack E. Teegarden, St. Joseph, Mo. All are stationed at Arlington Heights battery.

They gave demonstrations every half hour for thousands who attended the Legion-Lions carnival. The missile tracks down and destroys enemy aircraft and seconds after its launching its speed has broken the sound barried. Completely mobile, the missile can go higher than any of today's airplanes and is a forerunner of the space ship. —Staff Photo

Plenty of space for folk dancing when it is in the open air at a Girl Scout day camp. Here Brownies are actively participating and are led by Mrs. John Liston, Mount Prospect, who taught all the dancing at the June session of camp at Camp Pine, located at Lake-Euclid and River roads.
